Julie -

Thank you so much for including me. I learned a lot and enjoyed the process. It is very interesting to see what the military is doing about this.

During my panel, I was asked about the "conversion" rate in Baltimore regarding those victims who obtain anonymous forensic evidence collection and then decide to make a report to law enforcement. I was able to obtain this information and I wonder if there is a way to submit this information for the record.

In Baltimore, the forensic evidence collection program sees cases that are within and outside of our jurisdiction. Out of jurisdiction cases include the naval academy. The conversion rate is 72% for all cases seen, and 38% for city jurisdiction cases.

Thank you -
