

Lieutenant Colonel Todd Yosick serves as an active duty Medical Service Corps Officer and Social Worker in the United States Army. He holds the credential of Licensed Independent Social Worker with the Supervisor designation in the State of Ohio, and maintains Board Certified Diplomate status through the American Board of Clinical Social Work Examiners. He is a graduate from Mount Vernon Nazarene University in Mount Vernon, Ohio, and holds a Masters of Social Work degree from Roberts Wesleyan College in Rochester, New York. LTC Yosick currently serves as the Army Surgeon General's Behavioral Health Strategic Integrator and Liaison to the Department of Defense and Veterans Administration.

Prior to his current position, he served as a behavioral health consultant and subject matter expert to the Secretary of the Army as a member of the Army Task Force on Behavioral Health. LTC Yosick also served as the Deputy Director for Resilience and Prevention at the Defense Centers of Excellence for Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury where he led the psychological resilience and prevention mission for over 9.5 million beneficiaries worldwide. He was selected by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to serve as a developer and author of the Total Force Fitness Initiative. He served as the Chief of Combat and Operational Stress Control Training and Battlemind Training at the Army Medical Department Center and School at Fort Sam Houston, Texas where he led multiple training missions globally in the area of combat and operational stress control for the U.S. and NATO forces in direct support of Operation Iraqi/Enduring Freedom. He also served as the Division Social Worker for the 25th Infantry Division (Light) at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii and deployed to Operation Iraqi Freedom II with the 2nd Brigade Combat Team.