

2. (ALL) Please provide the most recent FY13 sexual assault reporting data and include analysis by DoD and each of the Services to explain what they believe accounts for fluctuations from the previous year.

DOD	DOD SAPRO Attached please find a metrics slide deck that highlights numerous assessment results. DoD's objective is to effectively standardize, measure, analyze, assess, and report program progress as it relates to reducing and eliminating sexual assault. DoD's goal is incorporating responsive, meaningful, and accurate systems of measurement and evaluation into every aspect of the SAPR program. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • As part of our assessment efforts, the Department has developed an initial set of six SAPR metrics, with more under development. • The initial FY 13 metrics data – through Q3 – shows an increase in victim reports of sexual assault when compared to FY 12. • This is a historically underreported crime – meaning much more crime occurs than is ever reported to DoD authorities. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ The SAPR program has seen an average increase of reports of sexual assault of approximately 5% each year since 2007. • Reports of sexual assault have increased by an unprecedented 46% in FY 13 when compared to the same period in FY 12. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Under the current conditions, we assess this increase in reporting is most likely due to greater victim confidence, as a result of improved victim support services, sustained senior leader engagement, enhanced investigative and legal capabilities, and a better-educated force. ○ Contributing to the overall increase is a significant increase in reports of sexual assault for incidents that occurred prior to military service, another sign of victim confidence. • More reporting offers greater opportunities to provide victim care and hold offenders appropriately accountable. • How we treat current victims will impact future victims' decisions to report. We must treat survivors of this crime with the sensitivity they deserve, the privacy they prefer, and the responsive support they need.
USA	The U.S. Army is still in the process of tabulating and validating the number of reports of sexual assault for FY 2013. While we tabulate quarterly, the annual validation is much more extensive to ensure the accuracy of data for the Annual Report to Congress. However, we can report preliminary data which shows a 50% increase in reports over FY12, and almost 20% more than any other fiscal year since tracking began. This is encouraging as an indicator of increased confidence in the system rather than an increase in incidents. We assume the former as the share of reports which occurred prior to entering the Army more than doubled. We are continuing our analysis of the data and look forward to combining it with data from upcoming focus groups to provide a comprehensive assessment of the reporting environment. In the interim, we can provide trends identified from data through the 3rd quarter of FY 2013.

The number of reported sexual assaults in 3rd quarter of FY 2013 was 27% higher than any other quarter since tracking began in 2005. Sexual assault is one of the most underreported crimes, and the recent increase in reports may be a step in the right direction toward regaining Soldiers' trust as a sign of confidence in our leaders, response services and justice system.

Through the 3rd quarter we exceeded the total number of reports for all of FY12. The FY13-to-Date total number is 1513 as compared to the FY12-to-Date number of 1126, which is a 34% increase in reporting.

Of the 1,290 unrestricted reports thru 3rd quarter FY13, 57% (736) were Service Member on Service Member and 64% (829) occurred on post.

There was a 31% increase in unrestricted reports through the same time last year and a 59% increase for restricted reports.

Sexual Harassment / Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) Program Statistics:

Victim/Subject Data (Soldiers) - FY12 Investigations:

- 84% of victims: E1-E4 (unchanged from FY11)

USMC	In FY13, reports of sexual assault in the Marine Corps increased by roughly 85%. This increase reflects increased trust and confidence that commanders will respond to each report with compassion and urgency. Reporting is the bridge to victim care and offender accountability. Additional data and analysis will be provided by the FY13 Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the military.
USCG	(Corrected response submitted because of a typographical error with initial submission): As of 05 Nov 13, the Coast Guard received a total of 196 reports of sexual assault for FY13. Of the 196 cases, there were 165 Unrestricted Reports and 31 Restricted Reports. As the final reports are compared between the SAPR Program and CGIS, this information may be updated prior to submission of our Annual Report to Congress.

Part 1 - Fiscal Year (FY) 2012 Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Review Data Call: Army

Executive Summary

American Soldiers are bound by common values that demand loyalty, integrity and respect for each other. In this context, the Army considers it the duty of every Soldier to intervene and stop incidents of sexual assault before they occur. Soldiers who commit the crime of sexual assault not only betray their victims, they violate the sacred trust of their fellow Soldiers.

The cornerstone of the Army's strategy to prevent sexual assault is the "I. A.M. Strong" Sexual Assault Prevention Campaign where the letters I. A. M. stand for Intervene – Act – Motivate. The "I. A.M. Strong" messaging features leaders establishing a positive command climate and Soldiers as influential role models who personally take action to set a respectful standard of conduct. Specific actions under this strategy also address secondary and tertiary prevention efforts which include reducing the stigma of reporting and holding offenders accountable for their actions.

Inasmuch as behavior such as sexual harassment may set a foundation for sexual violence, the Army's prevention strategy combines the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program with the Prevention of Sexual Harassment (POSH) efforts and response to military sexual harassment incidents. The result is an overarching program called Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention, or SHARP.

There were positive indicators in combating sexual assault in the Army during FY12. Specifically, a 16% decrease in the total number of reported cases (Restricted and Unrestricted) of sexual assault from FY11, combined with preliminary survey results that indicate a marked increase in victims' propensity to report, suggest the Army's efforts may be having a positive effect.

Additionally, a significant narrowing of the gap between the rate of reported sexual assault cases Army-wide and those involving deployed Soldiers suggests an increased confidence in deployed Soldiers willingness to report sexual misconduct. Results from the Army's Sample Survey of Military Personnel (Spring 2012) reinforce this finding of increased confidence as the vast majority of Soldiers said it was likely their current chain of command would be supportive of a victim's report of sexual assault.

Although there is much more work to be done, these positive indicators are a credit to committed Army leadership and the sustained resourcing of prevention, training and response efforts. These efforts include the continued roll-out of the Army's "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign, the training of more than 15,000 unit SHARP personnel and the integration of interactive, innovative and tailored SHARP training into every level of professional military education.

The Army's continued focus on accountability, including the close coordination between specially trained and selected investigators and prosecutors, also produced measurable results. Although the number of Unrestricted Reports of sexual assault decreased by 10%, the number of substantiated allegations resulting in the referral of court-martial charges rose 56% (from 272 to 424) in FY12. The Army's court-martial prosecution rate of rape/aggravated sexual assault allegations, in which there was a final disposition and jurisdiction over the subject, was 57% in FY12, compared to reported rates of less than 20% among civilian jurisdictions.

This annual report complies with content and formatting requirements in the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD P&R) memorandum dated Oct 12, 2012 (SUBJECT: Data Call for the FY2012 DoD Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military). Per the USD P&R memorandum, this report is in two parts:

- Part 1 (Program Review) contains input from all Army Commands, Army Service Component Commands, and Direct Reporting Units and includes the Army's SHARP Program initiatives, accomplishments, challenges for FY12 and plans for FY13. Highlights of FY12 actions include:
 - Conducted the 5th Annual Sexual Harassment/Assault Prevention Summit featuring Army leaders, national subject matter experts, representatives from other Services, Federal Agencies and the White House.
 - Revised and fielded new SHARP training in several of the Army's Professional Military Education (PME) curriculum for enlisted Soldiers and officers.
 - Continued to execute an 80-hour curriculum, via mobile training teams, to train command selected unit SHARP personnel.
 - Expanded the capabilities provided by teams of special investigators and special victim prosecutors to focus on sexual assault cases.
- Part 2 (Statistical Report) contains data and analysis of the 1,249 Unrestricted Reports and the 174 Restricted Reports of sexual assault which were reported in the Army during FY12. Part 2 also contains a brief profile and synopsis of each sexual assault case investigated by the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command (CID) in which there was disposition decision in FY12.

1- Program Overview

1.1. Please provide a general overview of your SAPR program. This overview should include information such as:

- Authorizing regulations and/or instructions and dates of publication.
- General organizational structure of your SAPR program and personnel (e.g., Installation Sexual Assault Response Coordinator [SARC] and SAPR Victim Advocate [VA] structure, mid-level program management [if any], and program management) as well as a brief description of how this structure changes in deployed and joint environments.
- Other personnel involved and their roles in your SAPR program.
- Other (Please explain):

Chapter 8, with Appendices F-K, of Army Regulation (AR) 600-20 (Army Command Policy) formalizes the Army's SAPR Program, hereafter referred to as the SHARP Program. The Assistant Secretary of the Army for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (ASA M&RA) has oversight of the Army's SHARP Program, while the Deputy Chief of Staff, G-1 (through the Army SHARP Office) is responsible for program implementation and assessment.

As the SHARP Program is a command responsibility, commanders are required to: establish a command climate that prevents the crime of sexual assault; treat all allegations of sexual assault seriously and ensure investigations occur; treat victims with dignity and respect; and take appropriate action against offenders. Significant elements of the current Army program include:

- Senior commanders (at installations and in deployed locations) have overall responsibility for the SHARP Program implementation and execution. As a critical element of their program execution, these leaders (or their representatives) conduct required monthly Sexual Assault Review Boards (SARB). The SARB provides executive oversight, procedural guidance and feedback concerning local program implementation and case management.
- Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARCs) and Victim Advocates (VA) support commanders in implementing the SHARP Program. These SARCs and VAs are available 24 hours a day/7 days a week to interact directly with victims of sexual assault and other response agencies (medical, legal, law enforcement, investigative, and chaplain).
- Command Program Managers, unit SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel are Soldiers (or civilians assigned to military units) who assist their commanders in executing their SHARP Program and integrating sexual assault response efforts (legal, law enforcement, chaplain, and medical).
 - SARC/SHARPs and VA/SHARPs provide support and advocacy services in garrison and deployed environments.
 - A Headquarters Department of the Army Execution Order (EXORD) issued on 23 June 12 augments Army policy and requires one full-time SARC/SHARP and one full-time VA/SHARP be assigned to each brigade level unit. Each echelon above brigade is required to appoint one trained

SARC/SHARP as a collateral duty.

– Army policy requires two VA/SHARPs be appointed, as a collateral duty, for each battalion sized unit.

- All levels of Army institutional Professional Military Education (PME), from initial entry to senior service college, use a comprehensive set of training support packages to conduct required training. Annual unit level sexual assault awareness and pre- and post-deployment SHARP training is also mandatory per AR 350-1 (Army Training and Leader Development).

As detailed in the remainder of this report, FY12 was a critical year for the implementation of many SHARP Program initiatives.

2. Institutionalize Prevention Strategies in the Military Community

2.1. Under the Department's adopted "Spectrum of Prevention," and its six components, describe the policies, procedures, and initiatives implemented or advanced during FY12 to prevent sexual assault. For the purposes of this report, prevention is defined as those policies, procedures, and initiatives designed to stop the crime before it occurs. If "awareness" activities are discussed here, please describe the aspects of the awareness activities that meet this definition of prevention.

2.1.1. Identify your efforts to promote prevention.

The Army's efforts to promote prevention during FY12 were focused on the sustained roll-out of the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy. The cornerstone of the prevention strategy is the "I. A.M. Strong" campaign where the letters I. A. M. stand for Intervene – Act – Motivate. The purpose of "I. A.M. Strong" is to encourage Soldiers to take action to prevent sexual assault and to actively foster respectful treatment of others.

Leaders at all levels are charged to facilitate this prevention strategy by establishing positive command climates in which incidents of sexual assaults rarely occur, but when they do, victims come forward with confidence that there will be appropriate action.

2.1.2. Identify the ways you are changing organizational prevention-based practices.

The Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy consists of four integrated phases and has policy, procedure, training and assessment components, which will continue through 2016, and beyond. Each phase is cyclical, requiring continuous training of Soldiers and leaders, as well as periodic assessment, revision, improvement and refinement:

- The Secretary introduced the "I. A.M. Strong" Sexual Assault Prevention Campaign at the initial Sexual Assault Prevention Summit in September 2008. The Summit served as a platform to launch Phase I (Committed Army Leadership) by providing training on best practices and allowing commands the opportunity to develop prevention plans to support the Army strategy.
- Phase II of the prevention strategy (Army-wide Conviction) includes educating Soldiers to understand their moral responsibility to intervene and stop sexual assault and harassment. Phase II began at the 2009 Sexual Harassment/Assault Prevention Summit (April 2009) during which the Secretary, the Chief of Staff, and Sergeant Major of the Army addressed the attendees which included more than 100 Sergeants Major and 50 General Officers. The Army held its third annual Summit in April 2010 with over 650 attendees, including brigade and battalion leaders and Army SHARP Program Managers.

- Phase III culminates the dedicated effort of leaders and Soldiers under Phase I and Phase II by "Achieving Cultural Change" that truly reflects Army Values and fosters an environment free from sexual harassment and sexual assault. Phase III began during the fourth annual Summit which was held in 2011.
- The final phase is "Sustainment, Refinement and Sharing", during which the prevention program continues to grow while motivating national partners to support our efforts to change generally accepted negative social behaviors.

The Army's prevention strategy strives to reduce the stigma of reporting, thus increasing a victim's propensity to report incidents for one of the nation's most unreported crimes.

2.1.3. Describe the methods used to foster prevention-related coalitions and networks, to include prevention subject matter experts consulted and involved at the Service or Component level.

The Army continues to partner with several nationally recognized subject matter experts in order to help develop and validate the components of our Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign. These noteworthy experts include:

- Dr. David Lisak, a clinical psychologist whose research focuses on the motives and behaviors of rapists, the impact of childhood abuse on adult men, and relationship between child abuse and later violence. He consults nationally with law enforcement, prosecutors, judges and the U.S. military.
- Anne Munch, an attorney with over twenty years of experience as a career prosecutor and advocate for victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking. As a subject matter expert, she has worked extensively on the development of the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response programs in the military.
- Alan Berkowitz, an independent consultant who helps colleges, universities, and communities design programs that address health and social justice issues. He frequently consults for institutions of higher education, the Federal government, public health agencies, and military academies.
- Gail Stern is the co-founder of Catharsis Productions. Their program, "Sex Signals", incorporates humor and audience participation to foster greater understanding about the nature and impact of interpersonal violence.
- Dr. Jackson Katz is the creator of Mentors in Violence Prevention (MVP). MVP is a gender violence prevention approach focused on a "bystander" model that empowers individuals to take an active role in promoting a positive climate.
- Joseph Grenny is coauthor of New York Times bestsellers, Influencer: The Power to Change Anything, Crucial Conversations: Tools for Talking when Stakes are High, and Crucial Confrontations: Tools for Resolving Broken Promises, Violated Expectations, and Bad Behavior. Mr. Grenny is a co-founder of VitalSmarts which has helped organizations realize significant results using a proven method for changing behaviors.

- Dr. Sut Jolly is Professor of Communication at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst and Executive Director of the Media Education Foundation. He is one of the world's leading scholars looking at the role played by advertising and popular culture in the processes of social control and identity construction.
- Mike Domintz is the creator of "Can I Kiss You?" an interactive, skills-based presentation addressing dating, consent, respect, bystander intervention, and sexual assault.
- John Foubert, Ph.D. is the founder of the national non-profit organization One in Four which provides presentations, training, and technical assistance to men and women, with a focus on all-male programming targeted toward colleges, high schools, the military and local community organizations.
- Russell Strand is Chief of the U.S. Army Military Police School (USAMPS) Family Advocacy Law Enforcement Training Division and has specialized expertise in sexual assault investigations. He received the 2012 End Violence Against Women International Visionary Award in recognition for his work.

2.1.4. List the prevention education, training initiatives, and programs you offer to responders, particularly those that impart individual skills associated with bystander intervention or appropriate risk reduction that does not blame victims. When describing the initiative, identify the target responder audience and the principal objectives of the initiative.

The following prevention initiatives were conducted during FY12 in support of the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and the "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign:

- The Army held its 5th Annual Sexual Harassment/Assault Prevention Summit from 7-9 May 2012. The Secretary, Chief of Staff and Sergeant Major of the Army each addressed a group of more than 250 attendees which included Corps, Division, Brigade and Battalion Commanders and their SHARP Program proponents. The attendees formed five working groups and out-briefed the Director of the Army Staff on recommended actions for the Army to implement the Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on Sexual Assault Prevention and Response, signed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff on 7 May 2012.
- The Army continued an 80-hour SHARP certification course delivered by SHARP Mobile Training Teams (MTT) which trained command-selected SHARP personnel to execute the program worldwide. By the end of FY12, MTTs had trained more than 15,000 SHARP personnel.
- Army units conduct mandatory annual unit training which includes leader and Soldier videos and an interactive video for all Soldiers to view in a self-study mode, using the Army Learning Management System (ALMS). This self-study video ("Team Bound") is an interactive, multiple scenario product in which Soldiers become the lead character, making choices (including bystander intervention) in situations dealing with sexual harassment and sexual assault. This training is also mandatory for units during pre and post-deployment.

- The Army continues to implement and refine comprehensive curricula for all levels of Professional Military Education (PME) from Initial Entry Training (IET) through the Army War College. Each level of PME builds on the previous level as Soldiers' responsibilities increase from individual behavior to leader roles and actions.
 - To educate new Soldiers in an attention-getting and intriguing manner, the Army trains a set of ten "Sex Rules" which break down the elements of sexual harassment and sexual assault and defines them in simple, relatable terms. By linking each Sex Rule to an Army Value, the training challenges Soldiers to "Know the Rules - Live the Values."
 - Training for cadets in ROTC also incorporates "Sex Rules" messaging, includes an ROTC Cadre Guide, and uses a critical decision-making tool.
 - The Basic Officer Leadership Course - Branch (BOLC-B) for new officers also includes "Sex Signals" in addition to instructor-led training which focuses on the roles of junior leaders.
 - During FY12, the Army developed new training for senior leaders at the Battalion and Brigade Pre-Command Course (PCC), the Sergeants Major Academy and the Army War College.
 - The Army continues to refine SHARP training for each intermediate level of PME to ensure Soldiers and leaders have the knowledge and skills necessary for their responsibilities. These include NCO and Warrant Officer Advanced Courses, the Captain Career Course, the Company Commander and First Sergeant Course, and the Command and General Staff College.
 - Additionally, Drill Sergeants and Army Recruiters attend specialized SHARP training tailored for their unique roles dealing with new Soldiers and potential Soldiers. Drill Sergeants are provided a pocket guide titled "Sex Rules - Teach Them."
- Additional details on training for primary responders are cited in sections 4.2-4.3.

2.1.5. Identify your efforts to promote community education in the area of prevention (e.g., communications, social marketing, and media initiatives).

Community outreach and education remain key components of the Army sexual assault prevention strategy and "I. A.M. Strong" campaign. In FY12, efforts to promote, communicate and market the Army's prevention campaign, encourage open community discussion and reduce the stigma of reporting included the following:

- The SHARP Program Office continued its partnership with the Army Better Opportunities for Single Soldiers (BOSS) Program. This partnership is an effective way to spread the sexual assault prevention and "I. A.M. Strong" messaging at local events as BOSS Soldiers immediately connect with community members and other Soldiers to reinforce the peer-to-peer accountability and bystander intervention.
- For the fourth year in a row, the Army SHARP Program co-sponsored the U.S. Army Concert Tour, a summer concert series that brings top name artists to Soldiers, their Families and people from the surrounding community. Local BOSS Soldiers manned "I. A.M. Strong" booths and passed out sexual assault prevention literature to nearly 16,649 attendees at six events. SHARP messaging in venues, programs and video clips were viewed by more than 45,808 concert attendees.

- The Army SHARP Program continued its sponsorship of the U.S. Army Soldier Show in FY12. The Soldier Show is a high-energy ensemble production, offering a wide range of popular music and stage spectacle to Soldiers and Families.
 - More than 54,841 people were exposed to SHARP messaging at 33 installations while attending the 49 Soldier Show performances.
 - BOSS Soldiers and Soldier Show personnel distributed approximately 24,405 pieces of SHARP literature and educational items.
- The Army continued to raise awareness of SHARP through the marketing of the program in Army News Service articles, and in other Public Affairs products.
- The SHARP Program Office facilitated a 50% increase in Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM) and SHARP Summit media coverage by leveraging Army Staff partnerships.
 - Developed quarterly STAND-TO! articles, ensuring Army-wide coverage of the SHARP Program throughout the year.
 - Coordinated media coverage of the release of the Army/DoD Annual Report on Sexual Assault, SAAM and SHARP Summit.
 - Developed an Army SHARP Engagement Plan to help explain the Army SHARP story to America's opinion leaders.
- Army Installation Management Command (IMCOM) personnel at several installations provided sexual assault awareness and prevention classes to Family Readiness Groups and at community events.
- In Europe, USAREUR partnered with the U.S. Air Force Europe (USAFE) and hosted 19 presentations of "Can I Kiss You?" for 2,916 military, DA Civilian, and Family Members.

2.1.6. Describe the ways that you are strengthening Service or Guard member knowledge and skills in the area of prevention (i.e., bystander intervention, risk reduction).

All of the entries described in this section (2.1) support the Army's efforts to implement its comprehensive strategy and the "I. A.M. Strong" campaign in order to strengthen leaders' and Soldiers' knowledge and skills to prevent sexual assault. The Army's strategy and campaign focuses on creating a climate where sexual assault is rare and Soldiers act to intervene and stop incidents before they occur. This includes actions to stop behavior such as sexual harassment and sexual innuendo, which may lead to sexual assault.

2.1.7. Describe your Service or Component's current efforts or plans to provide SAPR training (policy and resources available) to all Service members at initial entrance into active service.

As noted in section 2.1.4, the Army provides SHARP training in IET and for newly commissioned officers in their respective BOLC courses.

- In the Basic Combat Training (BCT) portion of IET, Soldiers receive a one hour introductory course on SHARP policy and resources during their first 14 days of training and are introduced to the “Sex Rules” messaging targeted for new recruits (“Sex Rules - Follow Them”). Later in BCT, another two hours of SHARP training helps Soldiers learn about their responsibilities to take action using several interactive vignettes during the very popular and highly regarded production of “Sex Signals.” This 90-minute, live, two-person, audience interactive program contains skits dealing with dating, consent, rape and other associated topics such as body language, alcohol use and intervention.
- The initial SHARP training for new and prospective officers is conducted in a progressive and sequential format to adapt junior leaders to the changing operating environment with a combination of platform instruction and integrated training techniques.
 - In BOLC-A, ROTC Cadets receive a three hour introductory course on SHARP during early indoctrination of common core training.
 - At West Point, a comprehensive curriculum includes lessons on sexual harassment and sexual assault topics infused into core academic coursework across the 47-month cadet experience. A former brigade commander, an Army lawyer, and instructors with doctoral degrees in behavioral sciences developed the curriculum.
 - In BOLC-B schools, newly commissioned officers are provided three hours of SHARP training that includes a one hour section on new leader responsibilities and two hours of “Sex Signals” during which the officers apply leader decision-making in their response to various vignettes.

2.1.8. Other

Continuation of the 80-hour certification training is integral to the Army’s effort to operationalize SHARP as a command-based sexual assault prevention and response program. Select personnel who complete the 80-hour SHARP training are appointed to serve as SARC/SHARP specialists at every echelon above battalion level, or as VA/SHARP specialists at every echelon of command down to the company level.

In accordance with the requirements in the FY12 NDAA, the Army has assigned one full-time SARC/SHARP and one full-time VA/SHARP at Brigade level units. HQDA EXORD 221-12 (Sexual Harassment/ Assault Response and Prevention Program Synchronization Order) was released on 23 June 2012 and instructed all Army commands to comply with the transition to a command-based SHARP Program model for sexual assault prevention and response.

The SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel serve not only as the source for victim advocacy and reporting, but also as the commander’s certified and trained resource to assist in maintaining a culture and climate where behaviors such as sexual harassment and sexual assault do not occur.

2.2. List all studies of sexual assault prevalence and/or prevention programming effectiveness supported or performed by your Service or Component.

In coordination with the U.S. Army Research Institute (ARI) for the Behavioral and Social Sciences, the Army SHARP Program Office conducted a comprehensive study of sexual harassment and sexual assault related topics using two separate survey instruments, one for enlisted Soldiers in Initial Entry Training and the other for active duty operational Soldiers. The final reports from both surveys will be published in 2013.

2.3. Describe any treatment or rehabilitation programs implemented by your Service or Component for those members who have been convicted of a sexual assault. Include any educational programs designed to change the behavior of those members issued non-judicial and/or administrative punishments for an offense related to a DoD report of sexual assault.

The Army conducts a comprehensive Sex Offender Treatment (SOT) Group under the Directorate of Treatment Programs at the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks (USDB) at Fort Leavenworth, KS. The SOT Group is currently divided into two phases.

- The Assessment Phase occurs during the first year inmates are in the USDB and allows the group facilitators to assess an individual's readiness for treatment, determine their risk factors, complete all assessment testing requirements, and provide an overview of the treatment program expectations. Inmates are assessed to determine what level of treatment they require based on their risk factors and readiness for treatment.
- In the Treatment Phase, inmates assessed as low risk sexual offenders will participate in a group treatment meeting one time per week (2.5 hours) for approximately six months. Inmates who are assessed as high risk participate in a more intensive group treatment program to address their high risk factors. This group meets twice a week for 2.5 hours per session for approximately 36 sessions. Inmates assessed as having deviant sexual arousal, regardless of their risk level, participate in an arousal reduction treatment module.

Upon successful completion of their treatment group, the inmate is required to attend a Sex Offender Maintenance Group to practice and apply the skills learned during treatment.

2.4. Describe any progress made in FY12 on prevention-related efforts identified by your last year's report.

As planned, the Army continued to implement Phase III (Achieve Cultural Change) of its "I. A.M. Strong" Sexual Assault Prevention Campaign during FY12.

- Conducted the 5th Annual SHARP Summit of Army leaders and national subject matter experts.
- Revised the Commanders Guide for leaders at all levels to assess and affect the climate in their units, specifically as it relates to preventing, reporting and responding to sexual assault.
- Continued to conduct the 80-hour SHARP certification training via MTTs. Trained more than 15,000 command selected SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel since training began in 2010.
- Continued to revise and refine training in order to upgrade and integrate previous POSH and SAPR programs of instruction into a comprehensive SHARP curriculum at all levels of PME.

- Continued to develop the GTSY.com ("Good To See You") social network which is intended to facilitate Soldier discussions about prevention and intervention. Launch is now planned during FY13.

2.5. Describe any plans for FY13 related to the prevention of sexual assault.

The Army's prevention related plans for FY13 include:

- Hire (government civilians) and assign (military) personnel to permanently fulfill the requirements set forth in the FY12 NDAA for one full-time SARC and one full-time VA in every brigade or equivalent unit. These personnel will help commanders implement their unit SHARP Program, to include assessing and maintaining positive command climates in which sexual harassment and sexual assault are not tolerated.
- Continue to train command selected SHARP personnel via the 80-hour SHARP certification course.
- Continue to implement, revise and refine Professional Military Education (PME) and Civilian Education System (CES) SHARP training to ensure Soldiers, Leaders and Civilians have the skills and knowledge they need to help prevent sexual assault.
- Launch the GTSY.com social network to host forums where users can discuss issues in depth (including sexual harassment/assault response and prevention), and reduce the stigma of sexual assault reporting.
- Continue to work with DoD, the other Services and the Joint Staff to operationalize the lines of effort set forth in the Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on Sexual Assault Prevention and Response.

3. Increase the Climate of Victim Confidence Associated with Reporting

3.1. Provide major steps taken to publicize and encourage the use of both reporting options (Restricted and Unrestricted) by Service or Component members (e.g., local command initiatives that demonstrate the commander's role in creating a climate of confidence, explanation of available reporting options on installation websites, etc.).

The Army's comprehensive SHARP training emphasizes the Restricted and Unrestricted reporting options and encourages reporting by all Soldiers. Training is required for all new Soldiers in IET and at each level of PME for officers and NCOs. Reporting is a key topic in all training, including mandatory annual unit training and pre- and post-deployment training. Additionally, SHARP training, to include reporting, is presented during newcomer orientations at each Army installation.

Local commands, leaders, and Soldiers throughout the Army have also taken the initiative to encourage reporting and ensure community members are aware of sexual assault reporting options, including:

- Posting sexual assault prevention and response information on marquees at entrances to installations.

- Placing posters, banners and brochures throughout installations, which include points of contact, reporting options and the DoD Safe Helpline phone number.
- Placing articles in installation newspapers and public service announcements on Armed Forces Network radio and television stations to encourage reporting.
- Conducting awareness and prevention activities in support of Sexual Assault Awareness Month, including events such as 5K fun runs/walks to raise sexual assault awareness with command support and participation.
- Using HQDA provided marketing materials for the "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign to publicize within units.
- Creating local/unit videos to reinforce commitment to sexual assault prevention and response.
- Issuing pocket cards with SARC and VA phone numbers and reporting policy.
- Providing reporting information on Army and installation websites, Facebook sites and podcasts.
- Maintaining Memoranda of Agreement (MOA) and on-call/alert rosters with local crisis agencies to ensure understanding of reporting options available to Soldiers and the availability of off-post services as an option to victims.
- Purchasing DVD copies of "The Invisible War" documentary to augment unit training.

3.2. Discuss Unrestricted and Restricted Reporting process challenges encountered, as well as the solutions your Service or Component developed and implemented during FY12 within the context of:

3.2.1. Joint environments

Reporting challenges in Joint environments primarily exist among deployed units as detailed in Section 3.2.2, below. However, Joint Basing can contribute to confusion among Soldiers. In accordance with existing DoD guidance, it is the Army's position that the SHARP Program remains a Service responsibility regardless of which Service is in charge of the installation. Full-time SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel at the Brigade level should help alleviate most confusion.

3.2.2. Combat Areas of Interest

The primary Combat Area of Interest (CAI) during FY12 was Afghanistan, in which Army command elements are predominantly responsible for executing sexual assault prevention and response services, including conducting criminal investigations and courts-martial.

Army SHARP Program elements assigned to the International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) in Afghanistan align their sexual assault reporting procedures with CENTCOM Regulation 600-16, DoD Directive (DoDD) 6495.01, DoDI 6495.02, as well as AR 600-20.

Some challenges in a combat zone differ from those in a garrison environment. Maintaining confidentiality of the Restricted reporting option may be difficult, not only because of privacy of information, but also because command teams function as the support network for deployed victims.

Reporting challenges faced by deployed units also relate to geographical dispersion, which requires adaptive measures to ensure reporting resources are readily available and a victim's privacy is protected. Training and retaining sufficient numbers of SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel is essential; as are the conduct of monthly Sexual Assault Review Boards (SARBs) which help ensure proper SHARP Program management oversight.

3.2.3. Tracking victim services

The Army's Sexual Assault Database Management System (SADMS) serves as the primary database used to track victim services. Designated SHARP Program personnel populate SADMS with sexual assault case information, including victim services. Per victims' requests, the losing unit SARC/SHARP transfers advocacy/case data to the gaining unit SARC/SHARP. SADMS also includes data input from healthcare, legal and law enforcement sources.

Facilitating a warm-handoff of re-deploying victims, and those moving between installations and components, remains challenging. Deployed commands, home-station SHARP personnel, and Reserve Component program managers are watchful to mitigate this challenge through monthly Sexual Assault Review Boards (SARBs). The Army SHARP Program Office tracks cases and follows up on a monthly basis with Command Program Managers to reconcile cases and victim services.

Challenges with tracking victim services may also exist when Soldiers elect to seek assistance with off-post agencies. To enhance coordination with off-post agencies installations have implemented Memoranda of Understanding (MOU) or Memoranda of Agreement (MOA) and facilitated cross-training with local agencies, including rape crisis centers, local hospitals and law enforcement.

3.2.4. Restricted Reporting in any environment (including known incidents, if any, where the confidentiality of the report was breached for any reason).

There was one known incident where confidentiality of a Restricted Report was breached during FY12. This incident occurred when a Primary Care Provider contacted a victim's unit due to concerns about the Soldier's well-being after reviewing a medical encounter referencing the sexual assault. This resulted in the unit's initial awareness of the assault. The violation was immediately investigated as required by DoD Personal Identifying Information Incident Reporting procedures. The provider was notified of his breach of policy and the victim was allowed to retain a Restricted Report. Corrective action includes refresher training and a revision to the disclaimer on sexual assault medical encounters.

3.2.5. Other (Please explain)

Despite extensive training, and feedback that training is effective, some Soldiers still do not fully understand the Restricted reporting option. Specifically, some Soldiers are not clear whether Restricted reporting can be retained if the assault is disclosed to a third party (spouse/family member/friend), or if the commander finds out about the sexual assault through another source. Army policy addresses these issues which continue to be points of emphasis in all SHARP training.

3.3. Describe efforts, policies, and/or programmatic changes undertaken to improve Service or Component member confidence and/or victim participation in the investigative and military justice processes.

Thorough, fair and competent investigations and appropriate disposition of sexual assault cases are necessary to help maintain a positive culture and climate that does not tolerate sexual assault, and encourages victims to report without fear of reprisal. Accordingly, the Army continues with the following actions to improve confidence in the Army's investigation and prosecution capabilities:

- Maintained 11 Highly Qualified Experts (HQE) to advise leadership, and to support the coordination and improvement of training for sexual assault investigators, prosecutors and defense counsel.
- Maintained 21 special investigators and 19 special victim prosecutors at major Army installations to focus nearly exclusively on sexual assault cases, similar to civilian Special Victims Units.
- Hired additional examiners at the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Laboratory (USACIL) who were instrumental in meeting the congressionally mandated DNA turnaround time of 60 days.
- Partnered instructors and HQE from CID, OTJAG and USAMPS to train at each other's respective courses, sharing information and lessons learned for better ways to work together.

3.3.1. Describe how you are addressing the number of victims that decline to participate in the military justice process each year.

Encouraging victims to participate in the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault allegations is an integral part of Army training for investigators and prosecutors.

Each Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) is required by regulation to appoint Victim-Witness Liaison (VWL) personnel to advise victims of their rights, help victims seek assistance from installation or local agencies and prepare victims for the military justice process. Feedback from victims on the services of the VWLs is overwhelmingly positive. VWLs are trained on an annual basis at conferences frequently sponsored by the Department of Justice and the National Center for Victims of Crime.

Army trial counsel training on sexual assault prosecution includes instruction on working with and interviewing victims, and preparing victims for testimony at trial. Special Victim Prosecutors (SVP) attend intensive training to prepare them for their duties, including two weeks of on-the-job training with a domestic violence/sexual assault unit in a major metropolitan area. SVPs receive extensive training in trial preparation techniques to minimize impact on the victim, and bolster confidence in the military justice process.

Special sexual assault CID investigators (DA Civilians) have been hired and placed at installations with a high density of Soldiers. These investigators receive instruction in the interview technique, developed at USAMPS, called the Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview (FETI). This technique allows investigators to obtain information about the assault and the offender while minimizing the traumatic effects on the victim. Investigators are also instructed on the dangers of re-victimization and how to avoid this problem. Also, if a victim recants an allegation, agents are trained to cautiously and compassionately investigate the recantation to ensure that the victim has not recanted merely to opt out of an investigation.

3.4. List initiatives and programs implemented to reduce the stigma and overcome barriers associated with reporting sexual assault (e.g., thinking the report will not be kept confidential, being afraid of retaliation or reprisal, thinking nothing will be done about the report, and any other barrier to reporting identified through research).

As previously noted, the most significant program initiative to reduce the stigma of reporting sexual assault is the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign.

In alignment with the Army's primary prevention focus, "I. A.M. Strong" encourages Soldiers to take action to prevent Sexual Assault, fosters a culture of respect, and helps reduce the stigma of reporting by increasing victims' confidence in their chain of command to take appropriate action. During FY12, this Army-wide campaign included presentations of "Sex Signals" to thousands of Soldiers in IET and BOLC-B training and a partnership with Army Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) to raise awareness through multiple efforts, including sponsorship of the BOSS program, the Army Soldier Show and the Army Concert Series.

Introducing SHARP Program reporting policies and resources within the first 14 days of IET also helps demonstrate to new Soldiers that the Army takes sexual assault seriously, holds offenders accountable and takes care of victims.

Army investigators continue to use the FETI technique which has already shown to drastically reduce victim recantations, increase victim cooperation and participation, and support prosecution efforts.

Some commanders find that communicating the results of sexual assault cases to their Soldiers helps show the chain of command's commitment to thorough and fair investigations and dispositions, thus mitigating some victim's reasons for not reporting.

Additionally, former victims who are so inclined to speak to Soldiers about the professionalism shown by sexual assault responders in their case, help to alleviate the stigma of reporting.

The implementation of expedited transfer procedures is another initiative designed to mitigate the victims' concerns about workplace issues that may prevent them from reporting a sexual assault.

Other initiatives include all the items cited in Section 3.1 above.

3.5. Describe any progress made in FY12 on reporting-related efforts identified in last year's report.

The Army's continued implementation of the SHARP Program in all units during FY12 was intended to have a positive impact on the climate of confidence associated with reporting. Specifically, the Army's emphasis to train SHARP personnel for units down to the company level has provided visible and accessible resources for Soldiers to report a sexual assault.

One of the primary goals of the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and the "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign is to increase sexual assault victims' propensity to report. (Propensity to report is the percentage of Soldiers, in response to Army survey questions, who cited they were sexually assaulted during the previous twelve months and reported the incident). Although data is preliminary, the Army's 2012 Survey of Operational Troops shows that the propensity to report a sexual assault among female Soldiers increased from 28% in 2009 to 42% in 2012.

3.6. Describe any plans for FY13 to increase the climate of confidence associated with reporting.

The Army will continue to implement its prevention strategy during FY13. A key element of this is providing full-time and credentialed SARC/SHARP or VA/SHARP personnel at the Brigade level. These SHARP personnel will assist leaders in monitoring and maintaining a culture and climate where incidents of sexual harassment and sexual assault are rare, but when they do occur, victims feel free to come forward, without fear of reprisal and with confidence their leaders will take appropriate action.

Additionally, the Army will continue to improve its special victim capability by adding four more Special Victim Prosecutors, for a total of 23.

4. Improve Sexual Assault Response

4.1. Describe the policies, procedures, and initiatives implemented or advanced during FY12 to respond to, or improve the response to, allegations of sexual assault.

The Army's effective sexual assault response capabilities are the result of an integrated coalition of command, advocacy, law enforcement, investigative, medical, legal, and chaplain resources. Chapter 8, AR 600-20 documents the Army's policy and its integrated partnerships necessary to provide a coordinated response to victims of sexual assault. The Army continues to combine prevention of sexual harassment and sexual assault prevention and response efforts in order to ensure Soldiers seeking assistance for incidents of sexual violence or misconduct understand the difference between harassment and assault, and the options for reporting and support services for each.

Collaboration among all response groups, including combined training and awareness events, has resulted in increased teamwork and cohesion. For example, the implementation of special investigators and special prosecutors at the larger Army installations, and their participation in SHARP certification (MTT) training at those locations, has helped demonstrate the Army's commitment to improve response to and care for sexual assault victims.

Additionally, Army installations and organizations continue to partner with local civilian agencies serving sexual assault victims, to include rape crisis centers, hospitals and law enforcement. These partnerships often include collaboration to provide joint training and awareness events to enhance sexual assault education and prevention to the local community.

Also during FY12, as directed by DoD, the Army published a detailed policy for the expedited transfer of Soldiers who are victims of sexual assault. In accordance with this Army Directive, commanders must start with a presumption in favor of granting a victim's request for transfer.

4.2. List the number of new SARCs (include Deployable) and SAPR VAs (include Deployable) trained; the types of training received, which must include refresher training, and if the training was received prior to deployment.

4.2.1. SARCs (include Deployable)
4.2.1.1. List the total number of SARCs your Service or Component had at the end of FY12.
In addition to a Lead SARC/SHARP for each Senior Commander at more than 70 Army installations around the world, there are approximately 436 SARC/SHARP positions at Army brigades and equivalent organizations.
4.2.1.2. List the number of SARCs that were trained for the first time in FY12 (i.e., list the number of new SARCs your Service or Component had in FY12).
The Army trained 8,495 personnel (including Active, Guard and Reserve) via MTTs using the 80-hour SHARP certification curriculum during FY12. From this pool of trained personnel, commanders may assign/appoint those who meet the selection criteria to serve as a unit SARC/SHARP.
4.2.1.3. List the number of SARCs that received training that would allow them to operate in a deployed environment in FY12.
All SHARP personnel are trained to operate in a deployed environment.
4.2.1.4. Identify the number of new SARC positions slated for FY13.
There are no new SARC/SHARP positions slated for FY13. However, the current (approximately 436) brigade level SARC/SHARP positions are scheduled to begin conversion to permanent/funded positions, either military or DA Civilian.
4.2.2. SAPR VAs (include Deployable)
4.2.2.1. List the number of personnel trained in FY12.
The vast majority of the 8,495 personnel trained by SHARP MTTs during FY12 may potentially serve as a unit VA/SHARP, pending assignment and appointment orders by their commanding officer.
4.2.2.2. How many trained to allow them to operate in deployable environment.
All SHARP personnel are trained to operate in a deployed environment.
4.2.2.3. List the number of assigned VA positions planned for FY13.
There are no new VA/SHARP positions slated for FY13. However, the current (approximately 398) brigade level VA/SHARP positions are scheduled to begin conversion to permanent/funded positions, either military or DA Civilian. Additionally, each battalion is required to appoint collateral duty VA/SHARP personnel.
4.2.3. Describe your efforts to comply with the FY12 NDAA requirement for a full-time SARC and full-time VA at the brigade/battalion or equivalent level.
The Army published Execution Order (EXORD) 221-12 directing Army Commands, Army Service Component Commands, and Direct Reporting Units to immediately appoint one full-time SARC/SHARP and one full-time VA/SHARP at each brigade or equivalent organization. Commands filled these positions with existing resources, pending implementation of a permanent manning solution beginning in FY13.
4.3. List the number of personnel who received sexual assault training:

4.3.1. Commanders (i.e., Pre-command, Flag and General Officer)

During FY12, the Army's School for Command Preparation (Pre-command course) certified that 203 Brigade Commanders, 593 Battalion Commanders and 409 Command Sergeants Major completed SHARP training.

4.3.2. Criminal investigators

All CID agents who investigate sexual assault allegations were trained using a Sexual Assault Investigations Refresher Training curriculum developed by USAMPS. This training highlights alcohol facilitated sexual assaults, substantial incapacitation, the new Article 120, and proper titling decisions including proper determination of founded and unfounded cases, trauma and memory, tonic immobility, and FETI skill building.

Additionally, more than 1,600 military and civilian criminal investigators were trained at USAMPS on sexual assault investigative skills and techniques.

4.3.3. Law enforcement

In FY12, USAMPS provided specialized law enforcement sexual assault training to more than 2,200 military law enforcement investigators and first responders in several professional development courses including the CID Special Agent course, MP Investigations course, Child Abuse Prevention & Investigations Techniques course, Basic Officer Leader Course, MP Captains Career Course, CID Basic and Advanced Warrant Officer Courses, Advanced & Senior Leader Courses, and MP Pre-Command Course.

4.3.4. Medical personnel

All healthcare personnel that train at the Army Medical Center and School receive initial/basic training for sexual assault response. Sexual Assault Clinical Providers (SACP) and Sexual Assault Care Coordinators (SACC) conduct follow-on and refresher healthcare/response training for healthcare personnel at their assigned Military Treatment Facility (MTF).

The Annual Sexual Assault Medical Management (SAMM) Conference, hosted by MEDCOM, assists the SACP and SACC with the development of their local mandatory training requirements. The FY12 SAMM Conference included Army, Air Force, Navy, Veterans Administration, National Guard, and Department of the Army Civilian healthcare providers.

MEDCOM also conducts Sexual Assault Medical Forensic Examiner (SAMFE) training to provide specialized education for health care providers to include registered nurses (RN) who plan to practice as SAMFE or Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANE). The training provides a comprehensive education program based on the Department of Justice (DoJ) Training Standards for Medical Forensic Examiners and prepares candidates to work in coordination with other responders. In FY12, 188 Physicians/Physician Assistants/RNs completed the MEDCOM SAMFE training.

Building on the collaboration of victim advocacy and investigative services to assist in the medical management and response of sexual assaults, healthcare providers provided testimony as a factual or expert witness for 64 (15% increase from FY11) sexual assault cases during FY12.

4.3.5. Judge Advocates

The Army Judge Advocate General's School and Legal Center (TJAGLCS) provides first responder training to Army Judge Advocates. In FY12, TJAGLCS trained 757 Army Judge Advocates (JA) in the Judge Advocate Basic Course, the Judge Advocate Graduate Course, the JA Officer Advanced Course, the Intermediate Trial Advocacy Course and the Military Justice Manager Course. This training included 215 Army Reserve and 135 Army National Guard JA Officers.

All Staff Judge Advocate field offices are required to conduct annual JA refresher training.

During FY12, the Army also trained 454 Trial Counsel in 19 sexual assault training events under the Trial Counsel Assistance Program (TCAP).

The Army also trained 151 Trial Defense Counsel concerning sexual assault issues.

4.3.6. Victim Witness Assistance personnel

The Army trained 43 Victim/Witness Liaison (VWL) personnel, and 5 victim assistance personnel from Army confinement facilities in FY12. This training provided basic instruction concerning the Army VWL program and specific instruction concerning working with all sexual assault victims.

The Army also trained 16 Army VWL personnel in August 2012, in a one day event limited to USAREUR personnel. That training included general instruction concerning working with victims generally, USAREUR unique programs for victims and training concerning the SHARP program.

4.3.7. Chaplains

All first-term Active Component, Army National Guard, and Army Reserve Chaplains receive initial training at the Chaplain Basic Officer Leader Course. This initial training includes: reporting classifications and reporting requirements; ministry response and spiritual support to sexual assault victims; dynamics of sexual assault; victim advocacy services and referral resources. All supervisory Chaplains receive training at the Chaplain Captain Career Course to provide supervision of pastoral response and spiritual support to sexual assault victims.

Installation and Division Family Life Chaplains provide training to Unit Ministry Teams composed of Chaplains and Chaplain's Assistants. This annual training includes pastoral response to victims of sexual assault and collaborative relationships with treatment facilities and SARC/SHARP personnel.

4.4. Describe any outcome metrics your Service or Component has developed to measure the impact or effectiveness of the training provided to the personnel specified in the sections above (i.e., SARCs, VAs, commanders, criminal investigators, law enforcement, medical personnel, judge advocates, Victim Witness Assistance personnel, and chaplains).

The 80-hour SHARP training used to train SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel was certified by the National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA) in 2011. Additionally, each training event uses summative evaluations to gather feedback regarding the effectiveness of SHARP training, instructor performance, and recommendations for improvement.

Army training for criminal investigators at USAMPS was chosen by DoD to train personnel from all military Services. The FETI technique, developed at the USAMPS, has already shown to drastically reduce victim recantations, increase victim cooperation and participation in prosecution efforts.

MEDCOM uses a competency checklist based on DoJ guidelines to ensure medical personnel meet the required clinical skills necessary to function as a forensic examiner.

Based on an initial review of pre-command training in FY12, the Army is working with DoD to develop standardized methods for objectively assessing the effectiveness of pre-command and senior enlisted training.

OTJAG provides evaluation forms to each victim and witness for each trial by special or general court-martial. The evaluations, returned anonymously, are overwhelmingly positive.

4.5. Describe efforts to provide trained personnel, supplies, and transportation to deployed units in order to provide appropriate and timely response to reported cases of sexual assault.

As noted in Sections 4.1-4.3 above, the Army ensures units deploy with trained sexual assault response personnel. Deployed SHARP Program personnel use organic transportation assets and/or coordinate for external assets as needed.

All deployed, Level III Combat Support Hospitals maintain adequate supplies on hand to treat victims of sexual assault.

4.5.1. Provide information regarding any existing gaps in supply inventory, as well as the shortage of supplies, trained personnel, and transportation resources to support deployed units in responding to allegations of sexual assault.

There were no reported gaps in supplies, personnel or transportation resources.

4.5.2. List the number of victims, if any, whose care was hindered due to lack of available Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kits or other needed supplies, and describe the measures your Service or Component took to remedy the situation at those locations.

Reports from commands and Army Medical Command cited no instance in which a lack of SAFE kits or other medical supplies hindered the ability of Army healthcare personnel to provide care to sexual assault victims.

However, USAREUR noted that some Soldiers are uncomfortable receiving the forensic exam at host nation medical facilities. Therefore, examinations are often delayed or victims opt not to receive the exams.

4.5.3. List the number of victims, if any, whose care was hindered due to the lack of timely access to appropriate laboratory testing resources and describe the measures you took to remedy the situation.

The USACIL processes SAFE kits for evidence for all U.S. military forces, including units deployed to the CENTCOM AOR. There were no reports of sexual assault cases during FY12 in which processing issues at USACIL hindered an investigation.

4.6. Describe sexual assault-related healthcare initiatives undertaken by your Service or Component in FY12:

4.6.1. Describe any mental health treatment programs implemented by your Service or Component to decrease the short- or long-term impact of sexual assault on victims.

More than half (52%) of the Army's Sexual Assault Care Coordinators (SACC) are Behavioral/ Mental Healthcare Providers. MEDCOM Regulation 40-36 provides the overall guidance responsibilities associated with sexual assault patients. The annual SAMM Conference provides continuing education courses to SACC for a therapeutic treatment validated for the resolution of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

The Army Medical Department (AMEDD) Center & School, Department of Behavioral Health offers evidence-based behavioral health training that assists with the a full spectrum of treatment and behavioral health care of sexual assault patients.

Additionally, the AMEDD Center & School (in partnership with Fayetteville State University) has an accelerated Master of Social Work degree program to support the shortage in behavioral health care personnel.

4.6.2. Describe any initiatives to develop protocols for initial and follow-up treatment for victims of sexual assault that is gender-responsive, culturally-competent, and recovery-oriented.

The Army continues to transform its healthcare system to a "system for health". This includes providing a patient-centered culture with a multi-disciplinary team that includes the patient (sexual assault victim).

The SACC and SACP work together on every sexual assault case to ensure that appropriate culturally and gender specific medical care is given and follow up is obtained.

Additionally, the Army provides specialized education for health care providers who perform duties as Sexual Assault Medical Forensic Examiners or Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners (SANE). The training prepares medical personnel to work in coordination with other responders to meet the health care, forensic, and information needs of adult and adolescent sexual assault patients. Personnel are trained on aspects of the sexual assault forensic examination, sexual violence dynamics, cultural competency, and age/gender specific skills to properly care for victims of sexual assault.

4.7. Describe your procedures and efforts for providing resource referrals to victims, including any challenges faced.

During initial response and case management, SARC/SHARP and/or VA/SHARP personnel inform victims of services and resources available on and off post. The VA/SHARP also accompanies victims, as requested, and facilitates referrals with other agencies.

Army installations and Commands have resource referral lists and Memoranda of Agreement (MOA) with civilian agencies in their areas of responsibility. SHARP personnel, in coordination with other responders, provide a "warm hand-off" of victims to those resources while maintaining contact with the victim until services are no longer required.

4.8. Describe your Service efforts or plans thus far to establish a special victim capability within your Service, comprised of specially trained investigators, judge advocates, and victim-witness assistance personnel. (Not applicable to NGB)

As stated in Section 3.3, thorough, fair and competent investigations and appropriate prosecution of sexual assault cases are necessary to help maintain a positive culture and climate that does not tolerate sexual assault, and encourages victims to report without fear of reprisal. Accordingly, the Army continues to work to improve confidence in the Army's investigation and prosecution capabilities by maintaining 21 special investigators and 19 special victim prosecutors at major Army installations. These personnel focus nearly exclusively on sexual assault cases, similar to civilian Special Victims Units.

4.9. Describe your Service or Component's efforts or plans thus far to implement a process for a member of a reserve component who is a victim of sexual assault (committed while on active duty) to be retained on active duty until the line of duty determination is complete.

The Army established procedures in 2009 to ensure that Line of Duty (LOD) determinations are completed at the time a member of the reserve component files a Restricted Report for the purpose of enabling the victim access to medical care. The Army will adjust its policy as necessary to comply with additional DoD guidance when published.

4.10. Describe any progress made in FY12 on response-related efforts identified in last year's report.

By the end of FY12, the Army had trained more than 15,000 SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP SHARP personnel via the 80-hour MTT delivered SHARP certification curriculum.

During FY12, the Army added four of the eight additional Special Victim Prosecutors, for a total of 19. The other four should be added during FY13.

4.11. Describe any plans for FY13 to improve sexual assault response.

The Army has a comprehensive and integrated multi-disciplined sexual assault response capability. The primary effort to improve sexual assault response in FY13 is the assignment and hiring of full-time (government), credentialed SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel at each brigade or equivalent unit. The Army also plans to hire 36 full-time civilian trainers in FY13.

Also, with funding support from DoD, the Army plans to conduct eight Special Victims Unit courses at USAMPS and train approximately 300 special agents/investigators and prosecutors from all military services.

4.12. Other (Please explain)

During FY13, the Army will expand access to its web-enabled reporting system to allow the full time Brigade SARC/SHARP personnel access to enter case data into the system.

Also during FY13, the Army will establish an Additional Skill Identifier (ASI) for SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel approved for credentialing. The ASI (1B) enables the Army to effectively manage, assign and utilize Soldiers with SHARP certification.

5. Improve System Accountability

5.1. Provide a description of how you execute oversight of your SAPR program. Please include a synopsis of the formal processes, participants, etc. that support oversight of the program.

The ASA M&RA has direct oversight of the Army's SHARP Program, while the Deputy Chief of Staff, G-1 is responsible for program implementation and assessment. The day-to-day operation of the Army SHARP Program is the responsibility of the Army SHARP Program Office which reports to the Director of Human Resources Policy in the Office of the Army G-1.

The Army SHARP Office executes the Army SHARP Program through a network of Program Managers at major unit level (Army Command through Division) who work with first response personnel as well as installation resources. Installations and deployed commands (Brigade and higher) also exercise local SHARP Program oversight using Sexual Assault Review Boards (SARB) to review sexual assault cases, issues, and processes. In accordance with Chapter 8, AR 600-20, the senior mission commander, or designated representative, chairs the monthly SARB.

Commanders play a key role in implementing the SHARP Program throughout the Army. Commanders, utilizing their SHARP personnel, are responsible for victim advocacy, program management, training, and ensuring a coordinated response system is in place.

5.2. Describe the oversight activities that have taken place during FY12 with the methods or approaches you use to perform oversight, including but not limited to the documentation and outcomes of:

5.2.1. Program management reviews

The Chief of Staff directed an assessment of the effectiveness of the SHARP Program and its current plan. To that end, the Director of the Army Staff created a team of subject matter experts from the SHARP Program Office, OTJAG, CID, the Office of the Chief of Chaplains, Army G-3/5/7, the Army National Guard, the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Installation Management (ASCIM), and MEDCOM. This "Red Team" visited major training bases and operational units in CONUS and OCONUS to observe implementation of the SHARP Program across Army commands, identify best practices and recommend areas needing improvement. The Red Team's report is pending final review and approval.

AR 600-20 charges commanders and SHARP Program proponents at all levels with oversight of program implementation. During FY12, organizations reported conducting several reviews/inspections/assessments, including:

- The FORSCOM SHARP Program Office conducted site assistance visits to ensure compliance, provide mentoring, and educational guidance as needed.
- The ARNG conducted training assistance visits to determine SHARP Program effectiveness, suggestions for possible improvements, as well as any identified best practices.

- In USARPAC, the requirement for commands to display their sexual assault prevention policy memoranda and contact information for unit SHARP personnel has been added to the USARPAC Command Compliance and Training Program (CCTP) Inspection checklist.
- The CID Inspector General completed evaluations of investigative services related to sexual assault investigations. General findings verified, with few exceptions, that investigations of sexual assaults were conducted in a thorough and timely manner, and met the investigative standards of the command.
- Office of the Judge Advocate General (OTJAG) conducted inspections of field offices pursuant to Article 6(a), UCMJ. These inspections included a review of the prosecution, defense and Victim/Witness Liaison programs.
- MEDCOM conducted assessments of 45 Army MTF ranging in size from medical centers to health clinics.

5.2.2. Inspector General (IG) inspections of the program

The Department of the Army Inspector General (DAIG) conducts inspections at the direction of the Secretary of the Army. The Army SHARP Program Office works closely with the DAIG to help the inspection team prepare for inspections of the SHARP Program, to include identifying subject matter experts to augment the team.

Although SHARP specific inspections were not conducted in FY12 at the HQDA level, the DAIG may review aspects of the SHARP program circumstantial to other inspections.

5.2.3. Identify the number of victim inquiries referred by SAPRO to your headquarters and the number of victim inquiries resolved in FY12.

The Army resolved all 12 of the victim inquiries referred by DoD SAPRO.

5.2.4. Other (Please explain)

Sexual Assault Review Boards (SARB) continue to serve as the primary forum to share best practices, identify lessons learned and locally assess program implementation. Installations and brigade level and higher deployed units conduct monthly SARBs. These forums allow commanders and first responders to review cases and refine/improve program practices and procedures.

5.3. Describe any standards or metrics you have established to assess and manage your SAPR program. If you have begun assessing your SAPR program using the standards or metrics established, please describe your assessment findings thus far.

The definitive metric is the number of sexual assaults. However, given that sexual assault is the most under-reported crime in the nation, this metric, by itself, is misleading. Therefore, the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy has corresponding goals to reduce sexual assault while increasing victims' propensity to report.

Preliminary survey data indicates that female Soldier victims' propensity to report has increased from about 28% in 2009 to 42% in 2012. Although, this is below the Army's first intermediate goal of 50%, initiatives such as full-time unit SHARP personnel, revised training and increased resources for commanders are intended to have a positive effect on increasing propensity to report.

5.4. Describe steps taken to address recommendations from the following external oversight bodies:

5.4.1. Government Accountability Office

The GAO review of Military Justice recommended that the Services leverage expertise for investigating and adjudicating alleged sexual assault incidents, such as consolidating training programs and sharing resources, including highly qualified experts who are used to advise criminal investigators and judge advocates. As a result of this recommendation, the Army, at DoD's request, conducts training for Marine CID, Army CID, Air Force Office of Special Investigations (AFOSI), and Naval Criminal Investigative Services (NCIS) at USAMPS.

Additionally, Army OTJAG HQEs, through the TCAP program, continue to work with the other Services to leverage resources and training.

5.4.2. DoD, Military Service or Component IG

There were no DoDIG inspection reports during FY12; however, the DoDIG began a review of CID casework and procedures in sexual assault investigations. Although the report has not yet been released, unofficial sources report CID's casework, especially in crime scene and evidence processing, was at a very high standard.

There were also no DAIG inspection reports during FY12 but the Army continued to address observations from a previous inspection to establish full-time SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel. In coordination with U.S. Army Manpower Analysis Agency (USAMAA), Army G-8, Army G-3/5/7 and Army Budget Office, the SHARP Program Office continued to work on funding and resourcing of the SHARP personnel at the brigade or equivalent level.

5.4.3. Defense Task Force on Sexual Assault in the Military Services

The Army continues to work with DoD regarding implementation of recommendations from the December 2009 Defense Task Force on Sexual Assault in the Military Services (DTF-SAMS) report. As of the end of FY 12, the Army's has only one outstanding action from the DTF-SAMS report; to determine the appropriate number of Victim Advocates based on military population and mission.

In accordance with the FY12 NDAA, the Army is assigning one full-time SARC/SHARP and one full-time VA/SHARP at each brigade or equivalent unit.

5.4.4. Other (Please explain)

The ASA M&RA and the Army SHARP Program Office supported the DoD assessment visit to United States Military Academy (USMA) in August 2012. USMA was rated in compliance on all action items.

5.5. Provide a summary of your research and data collection activities.

5.5.1. Describe the research and data collection activities that have taken place during FY12.

The Army's primary research and survey organization is the U.S. Army Research Institute for the Behavioral and Social Sciences (ARI). As one of the lead research institutes for training, leader development, and Soldier research, ARI conducts survey research and occupational analysis. ARI provides valuable trend data and analysis of Soldier and leader attitudes and concerns. One of ARI's recurring efforts, the Sample Survey of Military Personnel (SSMP), provides valuable research/data to the Army SHARP Program.

ARI conducts a bi-annual SSMP to determine views from Soldiers on a range of issues. Since 1996, the SSMP has periodically examined gender related issues.

Questions on the Spring 2012 SSMP addressed Soldiers' perceptions of the effectiveness of sexual harassment and assault prevention training, experiences of sexual harassment or sexual assault in the last 12 months, reporting of incidents of sexual harassment and sexual assault, and perceptions of their chain of command's likely responses to reports of sexual assault in their unit.

- Depending on gender and rank, 81% to 92% of Soldiers said that the sexual assault prevention training they received was very effective or moderately effective, up from 76/83% in 2011.
- Comparable to 2011, and depending on gender and rank, 82% to 97% of Soldiers said it was very likely or moderately likely that their "current chain of command would be supportive" if someone in their unit were to report a sexual assault incident.
- Among both males and females, officers (males: 92%; females: 85%) were more likely than enlisted Soldiers (males: 82%; females: 73%) to indicate that "some corrective action would be taken" if someone in their unit were to report a sexual assault incident.
- For each of three possible negative outcomes for a person making a report (being labeled a troublemaker, one's career would suffer, and not being believed), more females than males (both officers and enlisted) reported that they believed negative outcomes would result from reporting incidents.
- One percent of male Soldiers (officer and enlisted), two percent of female officers and six percent of female enlisted Soldiers indicated they had been sexually assaulted within the last 12 months by someone in the Army (military or civilian).

5.5.2. Describe your efforts to incorporate findings from Defense Equal Opportunity Climate Surveys (DEOCS) or other organizational climate assessments into SAPR programming in FY12.

In accordance with the Chief of Staff of the Army's guidance, AR 600-20 (Army Command Policy) was revised to require commanders to conduct climate surveys within 30 days (120 days for Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve) of assuming command, again at six months, and annually thereafter.

Some Army commands report using DEOCS results to identify training/ opportunities, create lessons learned, and identify victims' propensity to report.

5.5.3. Describe any empirical research or evaluation project initiated or executed in FY12 to inform or improve SAPR programming, including highlights of available findings.

In FY12, the Army continued its periodic (every three years) surveys of Operational Troops and IET Soldiers.

Following incidents of sexual misconduct at Army training centers in 1996, the Army G-1 and ASA M&RA tasked ARI to assess the Army human relations climate. To meet this goal, ARI conducted the Operational Troops and IET surveys in 2000, 2003, 2006 and 2009. In 2012, the Army SHARP Program Office assumed ownership of these human relations surveys, in collaboration with ARI.

The Operational Troops Survey (OTS) was available online from May through August 2012, during which time more than 11,000 Soldiers responded.

The IET survey was conducted from May through July at nine Army training centers. The surveys were administered to 5,722 Soldiers using paper and pencil. Additionally, the IET survey team conducted 15 male focus groups and 12 female focus groups.

Analysis and evaluation of the data from both surveys is ongoing. Final reports for each survey are scheduled for completion in April 2013 and will include Soldiers' perceptions and experiences with sexual harassment and sexual assault.

5.5.4. Describe your Service or Component's efforts or plans thus far to require commanders to conduct an organizational climate assessment within 120 days of assuming command and annually thereafter.

The Army revised AR 600-20 (Army Command Policy), requiring commanders to conduct climate surveys within 30 days (120 days for Army National Guard and U.S. Army Reserve) of assuming command, again at six months, and annually thereafter.

5.5.5. Other (Please explain)

The Army's initiatives to improve sexual assault case reporting and data collection are cited in Section 5.9 below.

5.6. Describe your efforts to align your SAPR program with the Joint Chiefs of Staff Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on SAPR (dated May 7, 2012).

The Army played an integral role in developing the JCS Strategic Direction and immediately re-engaged its leaders at the 5th Annual SHARP Summit regarding the priority of operationalizing sexual assault prevention and response.

Highlights of the specific Army actions in the five Lines of Effort (LOE) of the JCS Strategic Direction include:

1. Prevention - The Army is re-emphasizing sponsorship as data indicates first-term Soldiers are at higher risk of sexual assault within 90 days after arriving in their unit. The Chief of Staff also directed more frequent command climate assessments and the Army is revising Pre-Command and Sergeant Major Academy SHARP training to better enable leaders to positively affect the climate in their units.

2. Investigation - The Army has agreed to train other Service investigators at USAMPS. The training includes innovative sexual assault investigative techniques. The Army continues to resource the USACIL at levels resulting in consistently meeting the Congressionally mandated processing time of 60 days or less. The Army approved adding 96 military criminal investigators (CID Special Agents) to the force by FY14, including eight expert sexual assault investigators.

3. Accountability - The Army continues to maintain a robust Special Victim Unit capability with Special Investigators and Special Victim Prosecutors at major Army installations. The Army has also implemented the new DoD requirement to withhold disposition of certain sexual assault cases at the Special Court-Martial Convening Authority (O-6) level.

4. Advocacy - The Army has trained more than 15,000 unit SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel using a certified 80-hour curriculum. The Army is working closely with DoD to ensure all SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel are credentialed NLT 1 Oct 13.

5. Assessment - The Army initiated four assessment efforts during FY12: (1) At the direction of the Chief of Staff, the SHARP Red Team visited ten Active, Guard and Reserve locations in CONUS and Korea, meeting with Soldiers, leaders and first responders. (2) The Vice Chief of Staff led a team of senior officers on a six installation Health of the Force Assessment which included command briefings and Soldier/Commander sensing sessions. In coordination with ARI, the SHARP Program office conducted an (3) Initial Entry Training Survey at ten installations as well as an (4) on-line, Army-wide Operational Troops Survey. Analysis and results of these assessments are pending.

The Army also issued guidance via Execution Order (EXORD) to focus the center of gravity for sexual assault prevention and response at the Brigade level with the appointment of full-time SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel.

5.7. Describe and provide documentation of your Service or Component's implementation of Directive-Type Memorandum 11-063, the expedited transfer policy established in December 2011 for Service members making an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault, including your Service's efforts to ensure Service member awareness and understanding of the policy and any challenges your Service has faced in implementing the policy (documentation should be included as an appendix to your report).

The Secretary signed Army Directive 2011-19 (Expedited Transfer or Reassignment Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault) on 3 Oct 2011 (Enclosure 2). In accordance with this Army Directive, commanders must start with a presumption in favor of granting a victim's request for transfer and take reasonable steps to prevent a transfer or reassignment from negatively impacting a victim's career. Commanders must also ensure the victim is fully informed regarding reasonably foreseen impacts to his/her career, potential impact of the transfer on investigation and potential prosecution of the case. Only a General Officer can disapprove a request.

The Army also issued an ALARACT message announcing the policy and two MILPER messages with procedural guidance for personnel offices to process the transfers.

The SHARP Program Office and the Army Human Resources Command (HRC) have established oversight procedures to quickly resolve any Soldier transfer processing issues.

5.7.1. List the number of expedited transfers requested and denied in FY12.

The Army Human Resources Command processed 66 (65 Enlisted/1 Officer) Permanent Change of Station expedited transfer requests. None were denied.

Additionally, Army commands reported 20 Soldiers requested expedited unit transfers (to remain on their current installation). Two of these requests were denied. In one case, the allegation was deemed not credible by CID. In the other case, an administrative separation of the victim was in progress at the time of the assault.

5.8. Describe what measures have been taken by your Service to ensure that Service members protected by a military protective order are informed in a timely manner of the member's option to request transfer from the command of assignment.

Commanders' use of military protective orders (MPO) and consideration of transferring sexual assault victims (and/or subjects) is documented in Army policy in Chapter 8, AR 600-20 (Army Command Policy), and included in pre-command training. Additionally, the current SHARP MTT discusses MPO use in the senior leader portion of the training.

In addition, SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP personnel inform victims of their rights regarding separation from the offender, MPOs, temporary restraining orders and transfers.

5.9. Describe what steps have been taken to improve the collection of sexual assault data, particularly how your Service has prepared to use (or have existing data systems to interface with) the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database.

In FY12, the Army continued developing a web-based application in order to replace the current case reporting spreadsheet with an automated tool that utilizes interfaces with authoritative data sources. This application, called the Integrated Case Reporting System (ICRS), will assist SARC/SHARP personnel with data entry accuracy, victim and offender demographic data, and data completeness through the information retrieved from authoritative sources. The data entered through ICRS will provide a viable case file for integration into the Army's Sexual Assault Data Management System (SADMS).

Additionally, the Army continues to work with DoD SAPRO to accommodate data requirements for the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID) that are not in SADMS. SADMS successfully transferred data to DSAID during an operational test in August 2012.

5.10. Describe your Service's efforts to improve investigations and prosecutions for sexual assault cases.

In order to effectively address allegations of sexual assault, the Army continues to maintain a network of Special Victims Prosecutors, Special Investigators, and HQE. These personnel help establish the best practices available with regard to the investigation, prosecution, defense and disposition of sexual assault cases.

Thorough, fair and competent investigations and appropriate dispositions of sexual assault cases are necessary to help maintain a positive culture and climate that does not tolerate sexual assault, and encourages victims to report without fear of reprisal. Accordingly, in 2009, the Army established a capability similar to civilian Special Victims Units. Army Special Investigators (currently 21) and Special Victim Prosecutors (currently 19) are assigned to major Army installations to focus nearly exclusively on sexual assault cases.

Special Investigators are CID agents who receive specialized instruction, including an interview technique developed at Army Military Police School, called the Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview. This technique allows sexual assault Special Investigators to obtain information about the assault and the offender while minimizing the traumatic effects on the victim. Investigators are also instructed on the dangers of re-victimization and how to avoid it. Agents are also trained to cautiously and compassionately investigate a recantation to ensure that the victim has not recanted merely to opt out of an investigation.

Special Victim Prosecutors (SVP) are Army Judge Advocates who are specially selected, and who attend intensive training to prepare them for their duties. SVP training includes two weeks of on-the-job-training with a domestic violence/sexual assault unit in a major metropolitan area. SVPs also receive extensive training in interview and trial preparation techniques that avoid re-victimization. SVPs develop sexual assault training programs for investigators and trial counsel in their areas of responsibility, using local, state, and federal resources. The Army is adding four more SVPs during FY13, for a total of 23.

The Army also has eleven HQEs in support of the SHARP Program; providing expertise and advice in the areas of investigation, prosecution, defense, training, and forensic science.

5.10.1. Describe your Service's implementation of the Secretary of Defense-directed requirement to elevate disposition authority for the most serious sexual assault offenses (rape, sexual assault, forcible sodomy, and attempts to commit these offenses) to a Special Court Martial Convening Authority who is an officer at the O6 (Colonel or Navy Captain) level; include any challenges your Service has faced in implementing this requirement and your solutions for overcoming these challenges.

The Army implemented the Secretary of Defense-directed requirement to elevate disposition authority for rape, sexual assault, forcible sodomy and attempts to commit these offenses to a Special Court Martial Convening Authority who is an officer at the O6 (Colonel) level on June 28, 2012. TCAP and TJAGLC&S provided training on the new policy to Judge Advocates and Commanders. The new policy has been incorporated into annual training for all Soldiers and in PME for all leaders. To date, the Army has not experienced any significant challenges in implementing the policy.

The Army has also included guidance to the field in a draft Army Directive, and included the language in a draft revision to AR 600-20, Army Command Policy. Prior to implementing this new requirement, it was Army policy (since 2006) to withhold disposition on all sexual offenses to the Summary Court-Martial Convening Authority (Battalion Commander/O5) level.

5.11. Describe the policies, procedures, and processes implemented to monitor sexual assault cases in which the victim is a deployed member of the Armed Forces and the assailant is a foreign national.

Deployed CID elements notify the Army CID headquarters within 24 hours of the initiation of any sexual assault report in a deployed environment. CID monitors investigations on a monthly basis to ensure completion in a timely and thorough manner. The reporting, investigation, forensic examinations, and all other policies, procedures and processes related investigative actions for cases occurring in deployed environments are identical to cases occurring in the United States. Further, CID monitors action taken against the offender on a monthly basis until there is a final disposition. This includes engaging with host nation authorities as necessary to get updates and status on cases involving foreign nationals.

5.12. Describe and provide documentation of your Service or Component's implementation of Directive-Type Memorandum 11-062, which covers document retention in Restricted and Unrestricted reports of sexual assault; include a description of any challenges your Service has faced in implementing this policy.

Army CID updated its procedures to retain records in all criminal cases, to include sexual assault cases, for 50 years. The Army has included guidance to the field in a draft Army Directive, and included the language in a draft revision to AR 600-20, Army Command Policy.

5.12.1. Describe your efforts or plans thus far to create a record of the outcome of disciplinary and administrative proceedings related to sexual assault and to centrally maintain copies of those records.

The Army requires commanders to complete a DA Form 4833 (Commander's Report of Disciplinary or Administrative Action) to record all actions taken against identified subjects of offenses investigated by military and civilian law enforcement agencies.

Commanders are accountable for completing DA Form 4833 with supporting documentation (for example, copies of Article 15s, court-martial orders and reprimands) and action taken (for example, judicial, non-judicial, or administrative).

The U.S. Army Crime Records Center serves as the Army's collection point and analytic center for Army crime data, to include the completed DA Form 4833's.

5.13. Describe the efforts to review adverse administrative actions and discharges taken against victims who filed an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault in FY12.

AR 600-20 requires commanders, when initiating an administrative separation on any Soldier, for any reason (voluntary or involuntary), to include documentation in the separation packet that positively identifies the Soldier as having been, or not having been, a victim of sexual assault. This documentation is in the form of a memorandum, signed by the Soldier or the commander initiating the separation, stating:

- Whether the Soldier was or was not a victim of sexual assault for which an Unrestricted Report was filed within the past 24 months.
- Whether the Soldier does or does not believe that this separation action is a direct or indirect result of the sexual assault itself or of filing the Unrestricted Report, if the above is true.

AR 600-20 also requires that commanders serving as a Special Court-Martial Convening Authority or General Court-Martial Convening Authority must review all administrative separation actions involving victims of sexual assault identified above. The review must consider the following:

- If the separation appears to be in retaliation for the Soldier filing an Unrestricted Report of sexual assault. If so, the commander must consult with the servicing office of the Staff Judge Advocate (SJA) or other legal office.
- If the separation involves a medical condition that is related to the sexual assault, to include Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. If so, the commander must consult with the appropriate medical personnel.
- If the separation is in the best interests of the Army, the Soldier, or both. If not, the commander must consult with the servicing SJA.
- The status of the case against the alleged offender, and the effect of the Soldier's (victim's) separation on the disposition or prosecution of the case. If the case is still open, the commander must consult the servicing CID unit and SJA.

5.14. Describe any progress made in FY12 on system accountability-related efforts identified in last year's report.

Plans are still being completed to expand sexual assault training in the CID Agent Basic Course by adding a full week dedicated specifically to sexual assault investigations and the Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview (FETI) technique.

USAMPS did complete development of the Special Victim Unit Investigations Course (SVUIC) which was approved as an official Army/DoD course. The SVUIC has received preliminary accreditation from the Federal Law Enforcement Training Accreditation.

USAMPS also designed and implemented the Sexual Assault Investigations Refresher Training curriculum. This training highlighted alcohol facilitated sexual assaults, substantial incapacitation, the new Article 120, and proper titling decisions including proper determination of founded and unfounded cases, trauma and memory, tonic immobility, and the Forensic Experiential Trauma Interview technique.

OTJAG added four of the planned eight additional Special Victim Prosecutors during FY12, for a total of 19. The other four should be added in FY13.

5.15. Describe any plans for FY13 to improve system accountability.

At the direction of the Secretary, the U.S. Army Audit Agency will conduct an audit of the SHARP program in FY13. The objective of the audit is to verify that the Army's processes for reporting and addressing sexual harassment and sexual assault cases are sufficient and that associated risks in processes have been minimized.

The Army will complete the report of its Red Team assessment of SHARP, and identify recommendations and observations requiring action.

As previously stated, OTJAG will add four more Special Victim Prosecutors during FY13, for a total of 23.

6. Improve Knowledge and Understanding of SAPR

6.1. Provide examples of your Service or Component efforts to leverage senior leadership and unit commander support of the SAPR program (e.g., Held briefings, attended summits) to raise Service and/or Guard member awareness of sexual assault matters.

The Secretary, Chief of Staff and Sergeant Major of the Army continue to be personally involved in sustaining the momentum created by the Army Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign. Each uses their position to help shape the Army's sexual assault prevention and response efforts and ensure all Army leaders and unit commanders remain committed as well.

The Annual SHARP Summits continue to feature the Secretary, Chief of Staff and Sergeant Major of the Army involvement. In FY12, all three spoke at the 5th Annual SHARP Summit whose primary target audience was senior leaders (Commanders/CSM) and their SHARP Program personnel.

As previously cited, the SHARP MTTs conduct Senior Leader Training at each installation. This training is for Battalion Commanders and above and presents a candid examination of the "continuum of behavior" of sexual violence and associated behaviors, along with the roles and responsibilities of Army leaders and SHARP personnel, and the resources available to them.

Additionally, all commanders must receive a SHARP orientation from their SARC/SHARP within 45 days of assuming command.

6.2. Describe the expansion or creation of SAPR communication and outreach activities in FY12, including target audiences and related goals.

The Army continues marketing and socializing the Army prevention strategy in order to positively affect cultural change, prevent sexual assaults, and reduce the stigma of reporting. In FY12, this included the development and implementation of the SHARP Communication-Engagement Plan, resulting in more than 50 legislative engagements, media interviews, and other events in the first 120 days of the plan's execution.

An integral part of the Engagement Plan was the SHARP Speakers Bureau which enabled Army leaders to address SHARP topics/issues during internal and/or public engagements. This effort received favorable feedback from Congressional personnel and advocacy groups.

Additionally, the Army expanded SHARP Program outreach exhibits by 60%, while commands across the Army continued to hold town hall meetings, awareness runs/walks, educational festivals, and other outreach activities for military, Civilian, Family members, and local communities.

6.3. List the steps you have taken to increase public dissemination of available sexual assault resource (e.g., reporting channels, SARC and SAPR VA contact information, DoD Safe Helpline) information for Service members, eligible dependents and civilian personnel of the DoD.

Commands across the Army are using the DoD Safe Helpline and publicizing it to Soldiers and eligible Family Members. Additionally, Army installations/commands have hotlines and post contact information on web pages, in community newspapers, and in brochures distributed throughout the command and community.

The Army SHARP Program Office established a quarterly newsletter in FY12. This newsletter, "SHARP Focus," facilitated the distribution and sharing of SHARP information, news stories and best practices.

The Army SHARP Program Office also created a Products-on-Demand website to facilitate the distribution of SHARP materials (brochures, handbooks, posters, etc).

SHARP personnel across the Army also have access to information via the SHARP Knowledge Center on Army Knowledge Online (AKO). This collaboration tool facilitates timely updates of critical information.

Additionally, the Army has links to the DoD Safe Helpline and the Veterans Administration on the front page of the SHARP public website.

6.4. Describe the measures of effectiveness for your outreach efforts and detail results.

The SHARP Program, in partnership with Army Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR), disseminated messaging about sexual assault and sexual harassment prevention to more than 100,649 Soldiers, Civilians and Family Members via the Soldier Show and Army Concert tour. Informal surveys at these events showed that 90% of respondents indicated the SHARP messaging and materials were effective in raising awareness of the issue of sexual violence and the SHARP Program.

6.5. List active partnerships with other federal agencies, non-federal agencies, and/or organizations and describe the goals, intended outcomes, and/or target audience of each partnership.

In addition to Section 2.1.3, which cites the Army's partnerships with nationally recognized subject matter experts and organizations, the Army continues to work with the Department of Justice (DoJ) and the U.S. Marshal Service to help identify methods to manage and track registered sex offenders.

The Army SHARP Program Office has also worked with the Department of State, Health and Human Services and the White House Office on Violence Against Women to coordinate, collaborate and communicate best practices.

Army commands and installations, to include Reserve Component units, maintain agreements with local law enforcement, medical and advocacy organizations. These agreements facilitate understanding of Army procedures and policies, to include Restricted reporting.

6.6. List participation in congressional hearings, briefings, and congressional staff assistance meetings.

During their testimony before the House Armed Services Committee (HASC) on 17 Feb 12, both the Secretary and Chief of Staff answered questions regarding the Army's commitment to prevent sexual assault. The Army G-1 also addressed sexual assault issues in his testimony to the HASC on 6 Mar 12 and again with the ASA M&RA during their testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee on 25 Apr 12.

Also in February, the Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School Commandant, and his faculty, briefed six Congressional staffers on training of Judge Advocates and Commanders in the area of sexual assault.

On 15-16 Mar 12, a delegation of five Congressional staffers visited Fort Leonard Wood, MO to learn more about the Army's law enforcement training for investigating sexual harassment and assault. Staffers toured mock crime scenes and observed how CID Agents, Military Police Investigators, and Military Police Soldiers are trained to investigate and preserve evidence for sexual assault cases. The visit also included opportunities to observe basic trainees during SHARP training and a chance to talk with chain of command personnel.

Senior Army personnel, to include the Chief of Staff, The Judge Advocate General, the Army G-1, and the Provost Marshal General met with several Members of Congress and their staffs to discuss pending sexual assault legislation, specifically the STOP Act.

The Superintendent of USMA visited several Members of Congress in response to their concerns about sexual violence at the academy. Additionally, several Congressional staffers visited West Point during FY12. During these visits, the staffers toured barracks, received briefings on the SHARP Program, and spoke with cadets about training, education and activities related to the SHARP Program.

Throughout FY12, the Army SHARP Program Office reviewed and provided feedback to several pieces of legislation impacting sexual assault prevention and response. These included numerous House and Senate versions of the FY13 NDAA.

6.7. Describe any progress made in FY12 on stakeholder knowledge and understanding-related efforts identified in last year's report.

The Army made progress on all efforts identified in last year's report. Specifically:

- Conducted the 5th Annual Army Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention Summit in May 12.
- Conducted Sexual Assault Awareness Month activities in April 12.
- Established Communications-Engagement plan and Speakers Bureau to facilitate SHARP messaging.
- Continued to revise SHARP PME, with focus on leader/commander training.

6.8. Describe any plans for FY13 to improve stakeholder knowledge and understanding of the SAPR program.

The Army's plans to improve SHARP knowledge and understanding in FY13 include:

- Conducting the 6th Annual Army Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention Summit.
- Conducting Sexual Assault Awareness Month activities.
- Implement revised SHARP training for the Brigade/Battalion Pre-Command Course and the Sergeant Major Academy.
- Implement a new outreach initiative for internal and external audiences.

6.9. Other (Please explain)

Communications and marketing are key elements designed to improve understanding of the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy. The Army has a Communications Working Group that meets to identify and coordinate communications, media, and public affairs activities for high-visibility issues including those regarding sexual assault prevention and response.

7. Lessons Learned and Way Ahead

7.1. Provide a summary of the progress made and principal challenges confronted by your SAPR program in FY12.

The Army continues to make progress in implementing its SHARP Program. Examples of this progress include:

- Training 8,495 command-selected SHARP personnel in FY12 (more than 15,000 total) to execute the program worldwide.
- Continued revision and improvement of SHARP PME training above the initial entry level.
- Continuing Phase III (Achieving Cultural Change) of the "I. A.M. Strong" Sexual Assault Prevention Campaign.
- Conducting the 5th Annual Sexual Harassment/Assault Prevention Summit featuring Army leaders, national subject matter experts, representatives from other Services, Federal Agencies and the White House.
- Implementing a Products-on-Demand website to allow units to order SHARP Program and "I. A.M. Strong" materials.
- Increasing the number of special victim prosecutors to work with special investigators, similar to civilian special victims units.
- The continued sponsorship of the Army Soldier Show and Army Concert Tour.

The primary challenge continues to be the reliance on a preponderance of collateral duty personnel at the unit level, where sexual assault and sexual harassment are most prevalent. Mitigation of this challenge began in earnest during FY12 with the appointment of full-time SHARP personnel at the Brigade level.

7.2. Summarize your plans for the next three years, including how these efforts will help your Service plan, resource, and make progress in your SAPR program.

The primary focus during for the next three years, and beyond, is to continue executing the Army's Sexual Assault Prevention Strategy and the "I. A.M. Strong" Campaign. Specific actions, already cited in this report, include:

- Continue to implement a comprehensive SHARP Program throughout all Army organizations (FY13-FY15).
- Conduct Annual Sexual Harassment/Assault Prevention Summits (FY13-FY15).
- Launch GTSY.com (FY13)
- Continue the SHARP MTTs to train unit SHARP personnel (FY13).
- Establish a cadre of full-time SHARP trainers to replace the contracted MTTs (FY13/FY14).
- Revise Army policy to comply with DoD policy revisions and new legislation and to document an integrated, comprehensive SHARP Program (FY13).
- Conduct Initial Entry Training and Operational Troops Surveys (FY15).
- Determine the distribution of SARC/SHARP and VA/SHARP military/civilian personnel and begin to hire and assign to permanent positions and the Brigade level (FY13/FY14).

- Continue to implement the web-enabled SHARP ICRS application and extend access down to Brigade SARC/SHARP personnel (FY13).
- Launch new SHARP public website and expand outreach efforts (FY13).
- Expand sexual assault training in the CID Agent Basic Course by adding a full week dedicated specifically to sexual assault investigations (FY13).
- Complete revision of the Special Victims Unit Investigations Course to support the sustainment of a special victim capability by providing advanced training skills and consultation support for CID agents and prosecuting attorneys (FY13).

Implementing these initiatives will help the Army to achieve its goals to establish and maintain a culture where sexual assault is rare and where victims feel free to come forward and report an incident when it does occur.

7.3. Other (Please explain)

The Army remains committed to preventing sexual assault, and the enabling behavior of sexual harassment. To do so requires a comprehensive program consisting of dedicated personnel with adequate resources. In FY13, the Army SHARP Program Office will continue to work with its partners to formally document and obtain resources necessary to fulfill this commitment. This includes investing in full-time, trained personnel to support commanders in implementing the SHARP Program.

Part 2 - Fiscal Year (FY) 2012 Sexual Assault Statistical Report Data Call for Sexual Assaults in the Military: Army

1. Analytic Discussion

1.1. Provide an analytic discussion of your Service's Statistical Report. This section should include such information as:

- Notable changes in the data since FY11 (in percentages) and other time periods, as appropriate.
- Insight or suspected reasons for noted changes, or lack of change, in data
- Implications the data may have for programmatic planning, oversight, and/or research
- How Reports of Sexual Assault mesh with your Service's scientifically conducted surveys during FY11 or FY12 (if any)
- Other (Please explain)

There were 1,249 unrestricted reports and 174 restricted reports of sexual assault in the Army during FY12. The total number of reports (restricted and unrestricted) decreased 16% from FY11. The FY12 data equates to 2.2 reported cases per 1000 active duty Soldiers, compared to 2.5 per 1000 in FY11 and 2.6 per 1000 in each year from FY07 through FY09.

A decrease in the number of reported cases does not equate to a decrease in actual assaults. However, the decrease in reported cases combined with preliminary survey results indicating an increase in victims' propensity to report, suggests a decrease in the actual number of sexual assaults (reported and unreported) may have occurred in the Army during FY12. More data and further survey analysis is needed to determine what aspects, if any, of the Army's sexual assault prevention efforts are having a positive effect on changing behavior and/or reducing the stigma of reporting.

Reports of Sexual Assaults (Rate/1000) ¹	CY 2004 ²	CY 2005 ²	CY 2006	FY 2007 ³	FY 2008	FY 2009	FY 2010	FY 2011	FY 2012
Army Rate/1000	1.1	2.0	2.8	2.6	2.6	2.6	2.5	2.5	2.2
CENTCOM Rate/1000	0.6	0.9	1.2	0.8	1.4	1.4	1.7	1.5	1.9

Note 1: Includes restricted and unrestricted reports.

Note 2: Restricted reporting did not go into effect until June 2005.

Note 3: Beginning in 2007, DoD directed reporting be by fiscal year, not calendar year.

Additionally, as displayed in Figure 1 above, the gap between the rate of reported sexual assault cases throughout the Army and reported cases involving deployed Soldiers narrowed significantly in FY12. This rate increase does not mean an increase in sexual assaults, but rather an increase in deployed Soldiers propensity to report. In fact, preliminary survey data from the 2012 Survey of Operational Troops indicate the propensity to report among deployed Soldiers is comparable to the overall Army rate.

Tabs 1 through 6 in the attached spreadsheet contain the detailed sexual assault data in the reporting formats required by DoD for restricted and unrestricted reports. These data represent cases reported Army-wide and in the CENTCOM Combat Area of Interest (CAI) during FY12.

2. Unrestricted Reporting

2.1. Victim Data Discussion and Analysis. This section should include an overview of such information as:

- Type of offenses
- Demographic trends
- Service referrals
- Experiences in Combat Areas of Interest
- Military Protective Orders Issued as a Result of an Unrestricted Report (i.e., Number issued, number violated, etc.)
- Approved expedited transfers and general reasons why transfers were not approved
- Others (Please explain)

Figure 2 shows the breakout of victims (service members and non-service members) and each type of sexual assault investigated for the 1,249 unrestricted reports in FY12. The proportion of assaults that were the more serious offenses (specifically rape and aggravated sexual assault/sexual assault) decreased significantly from 59% in FY11 to 47% in FY12. Most of that change was due to a 10% increase in Abusive Sexual Contact cases.

Victim Status by Assault Type (all unrestricted cases)	Service Member Victim	Non-Service Member Victim	Total Cases	Percent of Total
Rape	166	77	243	19%
Forcible Sodomy	71	17	88	7%
Aggravated Sexual Assault	233	71	304	24%
Sexual Assault	42	12	54	4%
Aggravated Sexual Contact	27	8	35	3%
Abusive Sexual Contact	145	29	174	14%
Wrongful Sexual Contact	287	63	350	28%
Indecent Assault	1	0	1	<1%
Total	972	277	1249	100%

Some demographic trends have remained relatively consistent over the past few years. For example, 84% of Army victims in FY12 were in the grades E1-E4; unchanged from FY11. Also in FY12, 65% of victims in completed investigations were 24 years old or younger. This is comparable to the 66% in FY11 and 64% in FY10, but lower than the 70% in FY09, 73% in FY08, and 75% in FY07. While there is no definite reason why there has been a 10% decline since FY07, the Army's awareness and prevention efforts have specifically targeted this age group, suggesting a positive impact on peer-to-peer intervention. The percentage of male victims (14%) in FY12 completed cases is also comparable to FY11 (13%).

Victims in reported sexual assaults in CENTCOM continued to be older and of higher rank than victims in Army-wide cases. Specifically, 73% of Army victims in CENTCOM reported cases in FY12 were E1-E4 compared to 84% of victims Army-wide (both unchanged from FY11). Similarly, 56% of victims in CENTCOM reports were 24 years old or younger, compared to 65% Army-wide.

There were 189 Military Protective Orders (MPO) issued in FY12. None were reported to have been violated.

The Army Human Resources Command processed 66 (65 Enlisted/1 Officer) Permanent Change of Station expedited transfer requests. None were denied.

Additionally, Army commands reported 20 Soldiers requested expedited unit transfers (to remain on their current installation). Two of these requests were denied. In one case, the allegation was deemed not credible by CID. In the other case, an administrative separation of the victim was in progress at the time of the assault.

2.2. Subject Data Discussion and Analysis. This section should include an overview of such information as:

- Demographic trends
- Disposition trends
- Experiences in Combat Areas of Interest
- Other (Please explain)

Figure 3 shows the breakout of subjects (alleged offenders) and each type of sexual assault investigated in FY12 unrestricted reports. The proportion of FY12 cases with service member subjects (84%) is slightly higher than the 82% reported in FY11 cases. The percentage of unidentified offenders in FY12 was 12%, unchanged from FY11.

Offender Status by Assault Type (all unrestricted cases)	Service Member Offender	Non-Service Member Offender	Unidentified Offender	Total Cases	Percent of Total
Rape	189	3	51	243	19%
Forcible Sodomy	64	3	21	88	7%
Aggravated Sexual Assault	271	3	30	304	24%
Sexual Assault	46	0	8	54	4%
Aggravated Sexual Contact	30	3	2	35	3%
Abusive Sexual Contact	147	12	15	174	14%
Wrongful Sexual Contact	297	29	24	350	28%
Indecent Assault	1	0	0	1	<1%
Total	1045	53	151	1249	100%

Trends regarding alleged Army offenders remained mostly unchanged in FY12. Identified alleged offenders were 97% male in FY12; the same as FY10 and FY11. The percentage of alleged offenders who were E1-E4 remained at 59% in FY12; unchanged since FY09. Also, 42% of alleged offenders in FY12 were 24 years old or younger; compared to 46% in FY11.

Subjects in reported sexual assaults in CENTCOM during FY12 also tended to be older and higher rank than subjects in Army-wide cases. Specifically, 36% of Army subjects in CENTCOM reported cases were E1-E4 compared to 59% of subjects Army-wide. Similarly, 27% of subjects in CENTCOM reports were 24 years old or younger, compared to 42% in Army-wide reports.

As of June 28, 2012 (pursuant to Department of Defense policy), the authority to dispose of an allegation of rape, sexual assault or forcible sodomy is withheld to the Special Court-Martial Convening Authority at the O-6 level, with a servicing legal advisor. Dispositions of these offenses prior to June 28 was withheld to the Battalion Commander level or above under the provisions of Army Regulation 600-20, paragraph 8-5(m)(5). The time it takes to make a disposition decision depends on many factors, including; the complexity of the allegation, the availability of evidence, continued investigation, the continued cooperation of victims and witnesses, and coordination with civilian authorities.

A commander is not limited to a single disposition choice and may employ more than one disciplinary tool, including administrative actions, to fully address an allegation. Although the format of this report requires the Army to place each allegation into a single disposition category, the explanations provided below and in the Sexual Assault Synopses Report (Spreadsheet 7) reflect that several disposition categories may be appropriate for a single allegation.

There were 1,289 allegations of sexual assault, ranging from rape to indecent assault, ready for disposition decisions in FY12. (This includes allegations from cases opened in previous years that were completed in FY12). Of these 1,289 allegations:

- 424 allegations were disposed of through the referral of court-martial charges.
- 60 allegations were disposed of through an involuntary, adverse administrative discharge of the subject. Of those 60 subjects that were administratively discharged, 28 were also given non-judicial punishment, with reductions in rank, forfeitures in pay, extra duty and restriction, prior to separation. In 4 of the 60 allegations in which the subject was administratively discharged, the victim would not cooperate in a military justice proceeding.
- 117 allegations were disposed of through non-judicial punishment. Each of these offenses involved a non-penetrative sexual assault offense, the vast majority an unwanted touch over the clothing. No penetrative offense was disposed of with non-judicial punishment.
- 56 allegations were disposed of through other adverse administrative actions. Each one of these 56 offenses involved a non-penetrative sexual assault, the vast majority an unwanted touch over the clothing. No penetrative offense (rape, aggravated sexual assault and forcible sodomy) was disposed of with an adverse administrative action.
- 92 allegations provided probable cause only for a non-sexual assault offense. In these allegations, there was insufficient admissible evidence to establish guilt beyond a reasonable doubt of the founded sexual assault offense and punitive action was taken against the subject for a non-sexual assault offense, such as adultery, fraternization or indecent acts. In 21 of these cases, the subject was administratively discharged for the non-sexual assault offense. In 52 of these cases, the subject was given non-judicial punishment for the non-sexual assault offense and in 19 cases the subject was given other adverse administrative actions. In 11 of these cases, the lack of probable cause was related to the victim's refusal to cooperate with the prosecution.

- 65 allegations were complicated by the refusal of the victim to cooperate in a military justice action. Without the cooperation of the victim in these cases, the Army was unable to take any punitive actions against the subject.
- 137 allegations were disposed of by a civilian or foreign authority although the accused was a person subject to the jurisdiction of the Army. In these cases, all of which occurred outside the limits of a military installation, the civilian authorities served as the primary investigative agency and determined that the allegation merited charges.

- In 9 of the 137 allegations the civilian authorities prosecuted the sexual assault offense to conviction.
- In 24 of the 137 allegations the civilian authorities chose to prosecute only the non-sexual assault offense.
- In 54 of the 137 allegations the civilian authorities declined to prosecute any offense for lack of sufficient evidence.
- The remaining 50 allegations are pending adjudication in civilian court.

(Note: Army commanders can, and do, take punitive actions against subjects charged in civilian courts. In 43 of the 137 allegations, the Army took punitive actions against subjects, including administrative discharges, non-judicial punishments and other adverse administrative actions).

- 150 allegations were determined to have insufficient evidence of any offense. Although the allegations made against the offender met the lower standard for titling in a criminal investigation of at least one eligible offense, there was insufficient evidence to legally prove those elements beyond a reasonable doubt and proceed with a military justice action.

Of the 1,289 allegations, 188 could not be prosecuted by the Army:

- 91 allegations were disposed of by a civilian or foreign authority because the accused was not subject to the jurisdiction of the military (i.e., the subject was a civilian or a foreign national).
- 93 allegations involved an unknown subject.
- 3 allegations involved a subject who was deceased or had deserted.
- 1 allegation involved an expired statute of limitations.

2.3. Reporting Data Discussion and Analysis. This section should include an overview of such information as:

- Trends in descriptive information about Unrestricted Reports (i.e., Did more reported incidents occur on/off installation, etc.)
- Investigations
- Experiences in Combat Areas of Interest
- Other (Please explain)

The unrestricted reports of sexual assault discussed above, and detailed in Spreadsheet 1, represent all cases reported to CID during FY12 in which either the victim or alleged offender was a service member, but neither was a juvenile. CID thoroughly investigates and documents each unrestricted report, regardless if the case is later determined to be unfounded.

While other jurisdictions may dispose of reports of sexual assault before opening an investigation, the Army's practice is to formally investigate every allegation. Although this practice may contribute to a seemingly higher number of cases, it demonstrates the Army's commitment to thoroughly investigate all unrestricted reports of sexual assault.

The length of time to complete a sexual assault criminal investigation during FY12 averaged 80 days, slightly lower than 84 days in FY11. Each case is unique and the amount of time it takes to complete an investigation is dependent on several factors, including: type of complaint, delays in reporting the incident, ages and types of victims, amount of physical evidence, and cooperative or uncooperative witnesses. As a result, 379 of the 1,249 investigations opened during FY12 were pending completion at the end of the fiscal year.

The amount of time it took victims to file an unrestricted report following an incident was comparable to FY11. 38% of victims filed their unrestricted report within 3 days, unchanged from FY10; whereas 8% of victims waited over a year to file an unrestricted report, also unchanged from FY11. Additionally, 68% of unrestricted reports occurred on a military installation in FY12, up from 65% in FY11.

3. Restricted Reporting

3.1. Victim Data Discussion. This section should include such information as:

- Demographics trends
- Service referrals
- Experiences in Combat Areas of Interest
- Other (Please explain)

During FY12, the Army recorded 227 restricted reports, of which 53 reports later changed to unrestricted (for a net of 174 restricted reports). This includes 13 restricted reports in the CENTCOM Combat Area of Interest, of which 1 report later changed to unrestricted (for a net of 12 restricted reports).

Restricted report victim demographics yielded some differences from unrestricted reports. For example, 52% of restricted report victims were 24 years old or younger, compared to 65% in unrestricted reports.

Given the small number of Combat Areas of Interest (CENTCOM) restricted reports (13), and the amount of unknown/unreported data elements, there are no discernible demographic trends.

3.2. Reporting Data Discussion. This section should include such information as:

- Trends in descriptive information about Restricted Reports (i.e., Did more reported incidents occur on/off installation, etc.)
- Trends in Restricted Reporting conversions
- Experiences in Combat Areas of Interest
- Other (Please explain)

There are some similarities between restricted and unrestricted reports. For example, more of reports (restricted and unrestricted) occurred on Saturday and Sunday than any other days of the week. However, there was no predominant day of the week pattern for either report in the CENTCOM CAI.

There was one notable contrast between restricted and unrestricted reports. Only 30% of restricted reports were for alleged assaults that reportedly occurred on a military installation, compared to 68% for unrestricted reports.

4. Service Referrals for Victims of Sexual Assault

4.1. Unrestricted Report Referral Data Discussion. This section should include such information as:

- Summary of referral data and how your service counts a “referral”
- Combat Areas of Interest referral data
- Discussion of any trends of interest identified in referral data
- Other (Please explain)

Service members receiving victim services continue to use military facilities more often than civilian facilities. However, the percent of victim services performed at military facilities dropped to 75% in FY12 compared to 92% in FY11.

There were 16 victims who received services for an incident that occurred prior to joining the military.

Additionally, there were 168 SAFE exams conducted for unrestricted reports.

The vast majority (84%) of all services for victims of unrestricted reports of sexual assault in the CENTCOM CAI were performed with military resources, including two SAFE exams.

4.2. Restricted Report Referral Data Discussion. This section should include such information as:

- Summary of referral data and how your service counts a “referral”
- Combat Areas of Interest referral data
- Discussion of any trends of interest identified in referral data
- Other (Please explain)

70% of Service members receiving victim services related to restricted reports of sexual assault did so in military facilities.

Services were provided to 20 victims who received services for an incident that occurred prior to joining the military. Additionally, there were 38 SAFE exams conducted for restricted reports.

Most victims receiving services related to restricted reports of sexual assault in CENTCOM did so military facilities, including one SAFE exam.

4.3. Service Referrals for Non-Military Victims Data Discussion. This section should include such information as:

- Summary of referral data
- Combat Areas of Interest referral data
- Discussion of any trends of interest identified in referral data

Other (Please explain)

There were 145 of non-military personnel who received victim services related to unrestricted reports of sexual assault during FY12; none in the CENTCOM CAI. Most (64%) of the services were performed using military resources.

Additionally, 45 SAFE exams were conducted for non-military victims.

F. COURTS-MARTIAL ADJUDICATIONS AND OUTCOMES (Sexual Assault Charge). This section reports the outcomes of courts-martial for sexual assault crimes completed during the Fiscal Year. It combines outcomes for court actions reported in Sections D and E above.

Total Subjects with Courts-Martial Charge Preferred (Initiated) for a Sexual Assault Charge in
Subjects whose courts-martial action was NOT completed by the end of FY12
Subjects for whom no court-outcome data was available
Subjects whose courts-martial action was completed by the end of FY12
Subjects whose court-martial was dismissed
Subjects with dismissed court charges who subsequently received NJP
Subjects who resigned or were discharged in lieu of court-martial
Subjects who were officers that resigned in lieu of court-martial
Subjects who were enlisted that were discharged in lieu of court-martial
Subjects with court-martial charges proceeding to trial on a sexual assault charge
Subjects Acquitted of Charges
Subjects Convicted of Any Charge at Trial
Punishments Imposed (For each convicted subject, count all forms of punishment imposed)
Subjects receiving confinement
Subjects receiving reductions in rank
Subjects receiving fines or forfeitures
Subjects receiving a punitive discharge
Subjects receiving restriction or some limitation on freedom
Subjects receiving extra duty
Subjects receiving hard labor

G. Nonjudicial Punishments Imposed (Sexual Assault Charge). This section reports the outcomes of nonjudicial punishments for sexual assault crimes completed during the Fiscal Year. It combines outcomes for nonjudicial punishment actions reported in Sections D and E above.

Total Subjects with Nonjudicial Punishment (Article 15) for a Sexual Assault Charge in FY12
Subjects whose nonjudicial punishment action was not completed by the end of FY12
Subjects for whom nonjudicial punishment data was not available
Subjects whose nonjudicial punishment action was completed by the end of FY12

Subjects receiving correctional custody
Subjects receiving reductions in rank
Subjects receiving fines or forfeitures
Subjects receiving restriction or some limitation on freedom
Subjects receiving extra duty
Subjects receiving hard labor
Subjects receiving a reprimand
Subjects receiving an administrative discharge subsequent to nonjudicial punishment

H. Other Actions Taken. This section reports other disciplinary action taken for subjects who were investigated for sexual assault. It combines outcomes for subjects in these categories listed in Sections D and E above.

Subjects receiving an administrative discharge or other separation for a sexual assault offense
Subjects receiving other adverse administrative action for a sexual assault offense

I. COURTS-MARTIAL ADJUDICATIONS AND OUTCOMES (Non-sexual assault offense). This section reports the outcomes of courts-martial for subjects who were investigated for sexual assault, but upon review of the evidence there was only probable cause for a non-sexual assault offense. It combines outcomes for subjects in this category listed in Sections D and E above.

Total Subjects with Courts-Martial Charge Preferred for a non-sexual assault offense in FY12
Subjects whose courts-martial action was NOT completed by the end of FY12
Subjects for whom no court-outcome data was available
Subjects whose courts-martial action was completed by the end of FY12

SECRETARY OF THE ARMY
WASHINGTON

03 OCT 2011

MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Army Directive 2011-19 (Expedited Transfer or Reassignment Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault)

1. Reference: Memorandum, Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness), Subject: Expedited Transfer Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault, dated May 6, 2011.

2. It is Army policy that there is a presumption in favor of transferring or reassigning a sexual assault victim, at his/her request, following that victim's credible report of sexual assault. Commanders and civilian leaders shall consider requests for transfer or reassignment in an expedited manner. This policy applies to all Soldiers who report being the victim of a sexual assault. The Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) Program shall take steps to ensure victims are informed of this policy.

3. For any number of reasons, some victims of sexual assault may not wish to remain in their current units or organizations after the sexual assault incident. Requiring them to remain when they have a desire to leave the unit or organization may negatively affect their safety and emotional well-being, as well as the functioning of the unit/organization. Expediting review of, and action on, a victim's request for transfer or reassignment is an important component of a leader's response to a credible report of sexual assault.

4. For the purposes of this policy, a report of sexual assault is credible when the commander (battalion or above), after considering all available evidence and the advice of the supporting legal advisor, concludes that there are reasonable grounds to believe that an offense constituting sexual assault has been committed against the person requesting the transfer or reassignment. For purposes of this policy, a credible report is limited to unrestricted reports of sexual assault.

5. Requests for a transfer or reassignment must be in writing. Victims are encouraged to include any and all of their concerns in the written request to aid the commander in understanding their needs and in making an appropriate decision.

6. In making a decision on a victim's request, the commander shall start with a presumption in favor of transferring or reassigning the victim. A transfer or reassignment includes, but is not limited to, the victim's temporary or permanent movement to a unit within the same battalion or brigade, to a unit within the same division, to a unit on the same installation or to a unit at a different geographic location. For Reserve Component members, a transfer or reassignment might include provisions to perform inactive duty training on different weekends or at different times from the alleged offender or with a different unit in the home drilling location.

7. Commanders may consider the following factors in determining whether a transfer or reassignment is appropriate and, if so, the lowest level of transfer or reassignment that would meet both the needs of the victim and the Army:

- a. Concerns of the victim;
- b. Operational necessity, including situationally unique requirements in deployed areas;
- c. The nature and circumstances of the offense;
- d. The location of the alleged offender;
- e. Potential transfer or reassignment of the alleged offender instead of the victim;
- f. The alleged offender's status (Soldier or Civilian);
- g. Status of the investigation and the potential impact of the victim's transfer or reassignment on the investigation, future disposition of the allegation and potential prosecution or other adverse action that may be initiated against the alleged offender;
- h. Potential disposition of collateral misconduct; and
- i. Any other pertinent circumstances.

8. Commanders will take reasonable steps to prevent a transfer or reassignment from negatively impacting the victim's career to the extent practicable. Prior to approving a request, the commander shall ensure the victim is fully informed regarding reasonably foreseeable impacts on his/her career, the potential impact of the transfer or reassignment on the investigation and potential prosecution or initiation of other adverse action against the alleged offender, or any other possible consequences of granting the request. If, after being fully informed, the victim elects not to proceed with his/her request, the victim shall withdraw the request in writing.

9. This directive does not encompass requests for transfer or reassignment following a victim's receipt of threats of bodily harm or death. Any such threat to a victim should be reported immediately to command and law enforcement authorities. A victim's request under these circumstances will be handled in accordance with Army Regulation (AR)

SUBJECT: Army Directive 2011-19 (Expedited Transfer or Reassignment Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault)

614-100, Officer Assignment Policies, Details, and Transfers, and AR 614-200, Enlisted Assignments and Utilization Management.

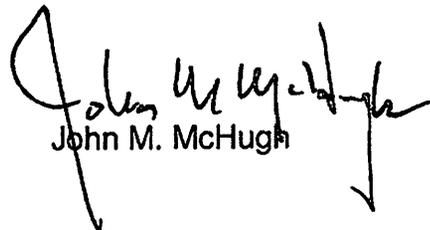

10. If a commander cannot approve a request at his/her level of command, the victim's request will be forwarded through the chain of command to the appropriate approving authority. Each commander in the chain of command through which the request is submitted will provide his/her written recommendation to the approving authority. Requests for permanent change of station transfers must be forwarded to U.S. Army Human Resources Command at hrc.g3.plans@conus.army.mil.

11. A commander recommending disapproval of a request shall provide the reason(s) for the recommendation in writing. A victim's request may be disapproved ONLY by the first General Officer in the victim's chain of command, who may delegate disapproval authority to another General Officer within the command, or to a member of the Senior Executive Service. When a victim requests transfer to another installation, the authority to disapprove that request is reserved to the Commander, U.S. Army Human Resources Command.

12. The provisions of this directive are effective immediately. The policy established by this directive will be incorporated in the next revision of AR 600-20, Army Command Policy. This Army directive is rescinded upon publication of the revised AR 600-20 in which the policies at issue are incorporated. Implementation instructions will also be incorporated into AR 614-30, Overseas Service; AR 614-100, Officer Assignments Policies, Details, and Transfers; and AR 614-200, Enlisted Assignments and Utilization Management.

MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARIES OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS

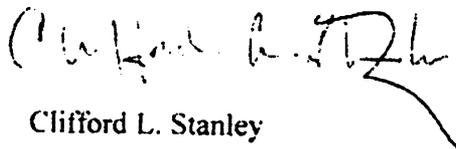

SUBJECT: Expedited Transfer Procedures for Victims of Sexual Assault

For any number of reasons, some victims of sexual assault may wish not to remain in their unit after the sexual assault incident. Requiring them to stay when they have a desire to transfer may negatively affect their safety and emotional well being, as well as the functioning of the unit. Providing an expedited process to transfer them is a positive step the unit commander may take in response to the victim's request. The Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Program Procedures Instruction currently under revision will provide for a standardized expedited transfer process.

Although the Military Departments are in the best position to determine the process and procedures for implementing expedited transfers for victims of sexual assaults, the procedures across the Department should be consistent, even if not identical. To that end, request that you provide an expedited transfer procedure for your Department. At a minimum the process should:

1. Establish a presumption in favor of transferring sexual assault victims, at their request, following a credible report of sexual assault;
2. Ensure a transfer under these circumstances does not negatively impact the victim's career;
3. Elevate the disapproval authority to the next level of command who is at least a General Officer or Flag Officer.

Request that you submit a response detailing your Services' expedited transfer procedure by 18 May. My POC is Ms. Sharon Cooper, 703-696-0909. sharon.cooper@osd.mil.

MEMORANDUM FOR ACTING UNDER SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR PERSONNEL AND READINESS

SUBJECT: Addendum to Fiscal Year (FY) 2012 Sexual Assault Report

1. Sexual misconduct violates everything our Army stands for and we do not tolerate it. We aggressively address sexual assaults by first focusing on prevention through education and training. We encourage reporting and work hard to reduce the stigma of reporting. Once reported, our efforts center on care for victims and the investigations required to hold people accountable. Finally, we continually assess the effectiveness of our measures.

2. Army leaders – officers, noncommissioned officers, and civilians – are dedicated to eliminating sexual harassment and assault. In implementing our Sexual Harassment and Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) Program and I. A.M. (Intervene, Act, Motivate) Strong Campaign, we are committed to, aligned with, and focused on achieving the goals of the Strategic Direction to the Joint Force on Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) set forward by the Chairman and Members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (7 May 12). A summary of our recent efforts and accomplishments follows.

3. Education and Training: To date, over 20,000 unit Sexual Assault Response Coordinators (SARC) and Victim Advocates (VA) have completed the 80-hour SHARP certification course. We aggressively indoctrinate new recruits and first-term Soldiers by providing critical training within the first 14-days of Basic Combat Training and by supporting Soldiers who self-disclose a pre-service history of sexual assault. We provide SHARP training in all institutional leadership courses for officers and noncommissioned officers, including all Pre-Command Courses. This training is comprehensive with mandatory training modules, including cultural considerations, current trends, and, most importantly, the commander's critical role in establishing a climate and culture that does not tolerate sexual misconduct. Commanders augment prevention efforts through unit-level and professional development sessions that include facilitated panel discussions of products such as "The Invisible War" documentary.

4. Encouraging and Reducing Stigma in Reporting: Army leaders are committed to encouraging reporting and reducing fear of stigma. Through education and training and reinforcement of the professional ethic of trust and respect leaders establish a climate that does not tolerate sexual harassment and assault. Our leaders are doing an outstanding job and Army survey data indicates that propensity to report has increased to 41%. This is a leading indicator that our efforts are having a positive effect. We compared both Army and DoD survey results on the issue of reporting to gain a better understanding of the current environment on this issue.

5. Advocacy and caring for victims: We respect the rights of victims, seek to protect them and provide them with the best possible care. Each of our brigades and like-sized units has one SARC and VA assigned to an interim, full-time position. We are resourcing 829 military/civilian full-time SARC/VA positions and providing collateral positions at battalions and below.

To date, the National Organization of Victim Assistance and DoD Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program credentialed nearly 3,000 Army SARC and VAs in both full-time and collateral duty positions. We are leaning forward to ensure all command SARC and VA are certified by 30 September. In addition, the United States Army Military Police School (USAMPS) trains investigators and prosecutors from all services in unique and proven ways of investigating incidents to ensure focus is placed on the crime and not the victim.

6. Investigation and Accountability: The Army continues to hold offenders appropriately accountable for sexual harassment and sexual assault. Judge Advocate Special Victim Prosecutors (SVPs) work in close cooperation with CID Sexual Assault Investigators (SAI) to ensure every allegation of sexual assault is thoroughly and professionally investigated. All personnel are specially trained to care for and advise victims. Prior to assuming their duties, SVPs complete over three months of intensive training focused on special victims prosecutions, including the National District Attorneys Association Career Prosecutor Course and on-the-job training with a civilian Special Victim Units (SVU) in a major metropolitan district. The Army intends to expand and formalize the SAI/SVP team concept in FY13 to further address the training and selection of Victim Witness Assistance Personnel and administrative paralegal support to the SVC. The Army continues to serve as the Executive Agent for the USAMPS's 80-hour SVU Investigation Course, training military investigators and prosecutors from all services. The Army is expanding its sex offender program which actively identifies, tracks and manages sex offenders in our community, which is recognized by DOD Inspector General as best practice.

7. Assessments: The Army conducted an Operational Troops Survey and Initial Entry Troops survey to measure program effectiveness and will continue to support both internal and external survey efforts. The Army Audit Agency completed an audit to verify sexual assault Helpline numbers and unit 24/7 response capability and is preparing an overall program review. The Army Inspector General is inspecting Commanders' compliance with certification and manning requirements in accordance with the FY12 NDAA. Upon assuming command, our commanders sequentially conduct command climate assessments at 30 days, 6 months, and then annually. These surveys enable a commander to understand the unit environment, make appropriate changes and measure the effectiveness of those changes. Senior commanders ensure subordinate assessments are completed and have the authority to review the subordinate results as well.

8. We have made significant strides in our efforts and acknowledge there is more work to be done to reduce the stigma associated with reporting and close the gap between reported and actual assaults. Our leaders are focused on creating a command climate free of sexual violence by setting, exemplifying and enforcing standards of discipline. Our Profession is built on trust and we are committed to caring and protecting one another. We will continue to wisely apply the resources necessary to fulfill our commitment to eliminate sexual assault.

9. The Army lead for SHARP is Ms. Collins at (703) 571-7353/ carolyn.r.collins.civ@mail.mil.
