

Ashley Ivy

Director, Victim Assistance Program
Office of the District Attorney
325 E. Washington St., Room 370
Athens, GA 30601

Born and raised in Athens, Georgia which is home to the University of Georgia. Graduated From University of Georgia School of Social Work with a BSW in 1993. Department of Family and Children's Services caseworker from 1993 to 1995. Victim Advocate for the Athens-Clarke County Solicitor-General's Office from 1995 to 1997. Promoted to the Director of the Victim Assistance Program in the Solicitor-General's Office in 1997 and served in that position until December of 2000. The Honorable Ken Mauldin was the Solicitor-General during that time and ran for District Attorney in 2000. I moved from the Solicitor-General's Office to the District Attorney's Office in January of 2001 when Mr. Mauldin took office as the District Attorney. I have been the Director of the Victim Assistance Program for the Western Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office since January of 2001. I have served on many nonprofit boards for our local Battered Women's Shelter, Child Advocacy Center, Sexual Assault Center through the years. I serve as one of the Regional Coordinators for the Prosecuting Attorneys' Council of Georgia and also on their Victim Services Committee. As part of the Victim Services Committee of the Prosecuting Attorneys' Council of Georgia in 2010, I assisted in the revisions to the Georgia Crime Victims' Bill of Rights.