Christina,

Understand you called a couple of times yesterday, but did not/would not leave a number for me to return your call.

To update you from when we last spoke, I wanted to relay two pieces of information:

1. No criminal charge was filed against you in violation of Article 107 (Providing/Making a False Official Statement). This was disposed of under non-judicial punishment, and so there is no criminal record to expunge and/or correct.
2. You may submit a request to obtain a copy of the hearing conducted to review the disposition of your file from the ABCMR. Additionally, you may seek a copy from the VA. As I previously indicated to you, criminal law and investigations are not my area(s) of expertise, and I apologize for mistakenly pointing you in the direction of USACIDC.

Please feel free to call if you have further questions. As an aside, I have not heard anything on your current review from ABCMR.

Best,

[REDACTED]

Ma'am,

No worries; I just meant that it's impressive that you've kept all this paperwork...many people don't.

Let me run some things down and I'll get back with you in the next 48 hours.

VR,

Sir,

I am sorry. Mr. [REDACTED] has said that he asked the Army for a response. Its not fair, I was hurt first. I won't send you anything else unless you ask for it.

Sincerely,
Christina D. Thundathil

Ma'am,

There is more than enough here to get things moving in the appropriate direction.

I know Mr. [REDACTED] has already done some substantive work in this regard and will keep you updated.

Best,

fyi Chief [REDACTED] in the SecArmy office said, "We don't recognize you, your injuries or your rape. That is the official position of the U.S. Army." End of his line to me. I will never forget that.
