

Presented by Ginny Branam Lee

May 6, 2014

This is the Outline for a white paper that my think tank will provide to this tribunal within ten working days. The following matters will be expounded upon.

- I. There is one more than way to address this epidemic. There are many approaches needed.
 - a. Legislation.
 - b. Training and education.
 - c. Personal and command intervention skill training.
- II. The problem with rape in the military, barring the rapists themselves,
 - a. Cultural leadership that minimizes and ignores the impact harassment.
 - b. Toxic leadership.
 - c. SARC and SHARP representative need legal empowerment toward intervention on behalf of the investigative process without rank and file complications.
- III. We have copious historical data that dating back to 1975 addressing sexual abuse as a cultural problem in Americas military. We propose:
 - a. Maintenance of non-judicial punishment as an option for the victim to select.
 - b. We support amendments that were passed in the NDAA
 - c. We support the current the McCaskill bill that provides further protections for active duty victims as an incremental measure.
 - d. We support additional legislation with the understanding that legislation is essential to change.
 - i. We are supportive of certain aspects of the MJIA and the STOP Act. Taking reporting out of the chain of command as an option.
 - e. We would like to see all available options considered and at least some of them implemented.
- IV. By-stander responsibility and complexity-increase culpability of inactive bystanders.
 - a. If you fail to act against harassment, rape, and assault then you are an accomplice.
- V. Gender Neutrality is critical in both responsibility and investigations.
 - a. Men and women can take charge.
 - b. Men and women are both victims.
- VI. Modernize the concept of consent and attack faulty premises.
 - a. Debunk rape mythology.
 - b. Debunk gender stereotypes.
 - c. Rebuild the concept of military character to be gender inclusive.
- VII. Educational programs that make sense.
 - a. Alcohol is not consent and should and should not be grounds for consent.

- b. Victim profiling is flawed in its inception.
- c. Programs that is replicable throughout the branches.
- d. Basic human rights and the identification of human rights that cannot be violated.
 - i. Recruiter oversight and ongoing training.
 - ii. MEPS station indoctrination.
 - iii. Basic Training indoctrination weekly during basic.
- e. Education of recruiters and the recruiting to eliminate criminal waivers.
- f. Culturally sensitive education to encourage self-efficacy and bystander accountability.
For example, I want the legal ability to defend myself against a rapist without being manipulatively charged with physical assault. Self-defense has to be taught and permitted with the same limitations that civilians are bound by. Defend our self with reasonable and equivalent force.

Bibliography

Bourke, J. (2007). Rape, Sex, Violence, History. Berkley: Counterpoint.

Browmiller, S. (1975). Against Our Will: Men, Women, and Rape. New York: Fawcet Books.

Burke PLLC. (2013). Burke Law Firm PLLC. Retrieved December 13, 2013, from <http://burkepllc.com/attorneys/susan-l-burke/>

Clawson, L. (2014, March 21). Army general won't get jail time in sexual assault plea deal. Daily Kos .

Hunter, M. P. (2007). Honor Betrayed: Sexual Abuse in America's Military. Ft. Lee, New Jersey: Barricade Books.

McClendon, J. (2013, October 1). Rape Culture and the Drunken Whore Fallacy. One Weary Soldier .

National Public Radio Staff. (2011, December 17). National Public Radio. Retrieved December 12, 2013, from <http://www.npr.org/2011/12/17/143897126/the-arab-spring-a-year-of-revolution>

Public Broadcasting Service. (1991). Tailhook 1991. Frontline .

Research and Education Institute. Bibliography: Women in the Military. Pentagon Library.

Rueters. (2013, May). Military sexual assault prevention officer accused of running prostitution ring. Retrieved from Rueters Home USA? Military: <http://rt.com/usa/military-prostitution-ring-ft-hood-287/>

Service Women's Action Network. (2011). Highlights of: http://servicewomen.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/09/briefing-paper_academy-report_2011-FINAL.pdf. Service Women's Action Network Webmaster.

Speier, R. J. (2011, November 17). A Crisis in Our Military. The Huffington Post .

Sutton, B. G. (2013, January). Senate Hearing. Senate Subcommittee Hearing Sexual Assault in the Military .

Zeiring, K. D. (Producer), Zeiring, K. D. (Writer), & Zeiring, K. D. (Director). (2012). The Invisible War [Motion Picture].

